AB3-4

At the mall

Look at the pictures. Match the numbered items with the words in the box.

clock information desk queue security guard shop assistant plant cinema lift escalator

Read what Richard says about a mall in England. What does he like?

We've got a big mall in Manchester. I like going there with my family. It has lots of good shops. I like the sports shops and the ones that sell video games. There are loads of clothes shops. My father likes the electronics shops. He likes buying things for his computer.

There isn't a supermarket, so we can't go food shopping there. I like going up and down in the lift because you can see everything.

There are plants and trees everywhere. And there's a big car park next to the mall. It has three floors. Sometimes my father can't find his car when we finish shopping. He gets very angry!

AA Talk about a local mall. Use the language below to help.

There is

Lesson 2

AB4-6

Hurry up! It's time to go!

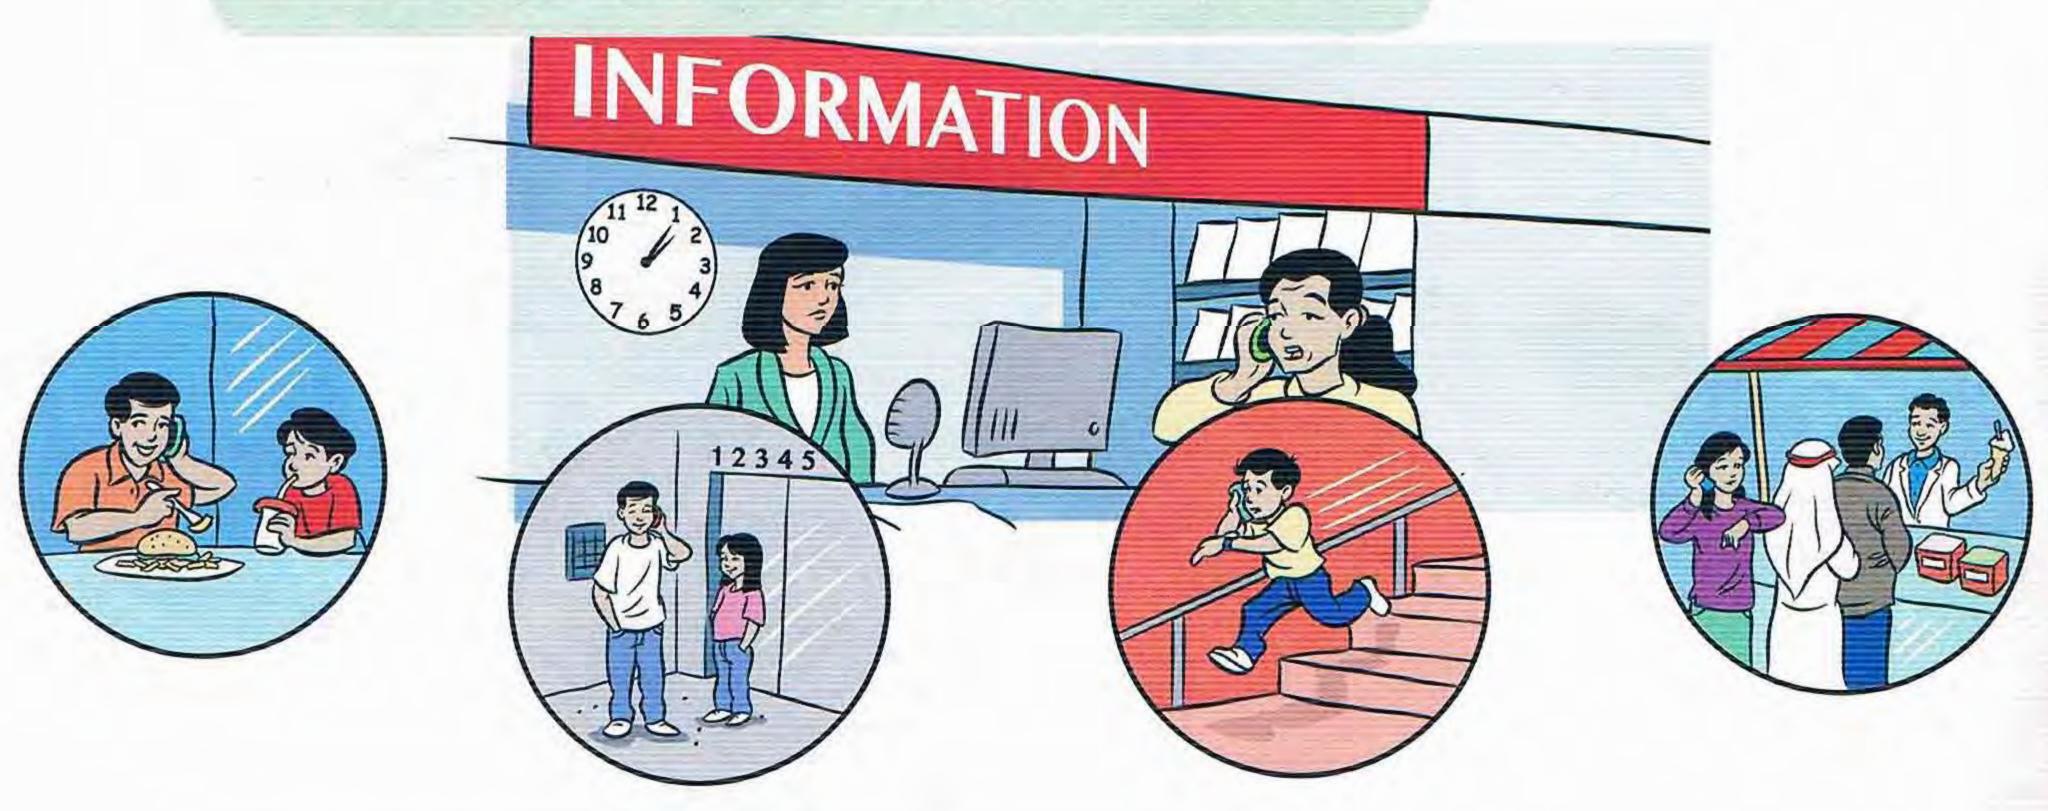

Which clocks show the same time?

Now say the times.

The mother in the picture looks worried.

- Why do you think she is worried?
- What do you think she is saying on the phone?

Listen to the four conversations.

Point to the correct picture.

I'm waiting in a queue.

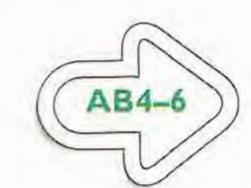

What are you queuing for?

Look at the pictures and read the conversations. Which one happens first – A or B?

What were you doing?

Sorry, Dad.
I was queuing to buy an ice-cream.

Car of the Year!

Lesson 3

AB7-9

Match the numbered car extras with the words.

Read the newspaper article. Does the writer like the Panther 3.0D? How do you know?

CAR OF THE YEAR AT ONE OF BAGHDAD'S MOTOR SHOWS!

in the car everyone is talking about is the Panther 3.0D. The new Panther is Car of the Year and it's really fantastic! It's a car everyone wants to come and see. Some people just stand and gaze at its beautiful shape. Others want to sit in the driver's seat and dream. Some young men are more interested in the engine – and what a great engine! It's beautifully made and looks like an engine from a much more expensive car.

Even the very young are interested. Children sit in the back and try the electric seats and windows. Their older brothers and sisters play with the built-in video-game player. These are standard for all models. Other standard features are GPS, the sunroof, tinted windows and a fantastic CD player.

Switch on the engine and it runs so quietly. Try all the extras and they really are fun. But there's more! There's loads of space inside. The Panther 3.0D has seats for eight people – two in the front, 20 three in the middle and three in the back. And there's space for all their bags.

It looks very expensive, but the Panther 3.0D is actually quite cheap. And you don't need a lot of money to run this car. It does 12 kilometres to the litre and has a four-year warranty.

But there's something even more important. This is a really safe car. You don't have to worry in an accident. There are airbags for the driver and passengers and many other safety features.

Is the car in the picture the Panther 3.0D? Read again carefully.

Lesson 4

AB10

Buying and selling

Look at the pictures. (2) Then listen and think. Which objects are the people describing?

Mountain bike

- disc brakes
- front and back suspension
- comfortable ride

Lightweight tent

- easy to put up
- clear instructions
- insect-proof
- sleeps two

Who are the people in the conversations?

AA Discuss the new vocabulary. What do the words mean?

Compound words

Words in English are sometimes made from two nouns.

Example:

windproof = made from material that wind can't get through disc brakes = brakes that use discs

Can you think of any other compound words? Look at Student's Book pages 4 and 7.

Giving reasons

There are disc brakes to help you stop quickly.

It has the latest suspension to help you keep on the road.

It is easy to put up so you won't waste time.

There are clear instructions, so you can put it up easily.

Think about the features of the Panther 3.0D. What are they for?

What are they for?

Read the extract and answer the questions.

- 1 Can you find three words used to describe Kareem's character?
- 2 What is the name of the new book Kareem wants to buy?
- 3 What does 'saving up' mean in paragraph 1?
- 4 What do you think the collection of poems Islands of Salt is about?

Kareem walked quickly past the department store and hurried towards the bookshop. As he got closer he saw there was a long queue forming outside the door to the shop and his heart sank. He had been saving up for months and wanted to be the first one to buy the new book by his favourite poet – now he would have to wait in line. As he stood waiting, the hard-working schoolboy pulled the advert for the new book out of his pocket.

Kareem had read all of Al-Nawab's poems at least twice and found them very interesting. The quiet boy spent most of his free time reading or writing his own poems and his parents, friends and teachers all said he was very imaginative. It was Kareem's dream to be a famous poet himself one day.

Finally the shop door opened and the owner welcomed the queue of customers in. When Kareem got to the door, the shop owner suddenly rang a bell and everyone started clapping and cheering. Kareem was very surprised and didn't know what was happening. After a while the shop owner saw Kareem's confusion and explained, 'You are the 50th customer through the door today, young man. There is a big prize for customer number 50 ... you will get to meet Al-Nawab. Are you any good at writing poems?'

'Yes! I've got notebooks full of poems,' replied Kareem. He felt a surge of happiness as he understood what was happening. His patience was being rewarded. It was a good thing after all that he wasn't first to buy the latest book.

Taxi City.

What kind of film is that?

It's a horror film.

It's a factual film.

So, what's it about, anyway?

These cockroaches. They're huge. They start attacking people.

The taxi driver, who is also the director, films and records his journeys and discussions over two or three days.

That sounds a bit strange.

Yes, it's not very good.

Yes, but it's good.

Who's the main character?

The leader of the team to kill the cockroaches is called Mason Dixon.

It's the driver – he's called Ahmed. So, it's him and all the different people he takes in his taxi.

What's the ending like?

It's not very good. The cockroaches are cornered and end up being zapped.

It's great. It also shows how effective a low budget film can be.

So, do you think I should see it?

No, it isn't really very good.

Yes. It's on for another week.

In this comedy, I play Samara, the daughter in a traditional family. I live with my mother, father and younger brother. [1] My brother is very clumsy and is always having silly accidents. [2] In the first episode, he accidently put salt instead of sugar in my mother's tea and it tasted awful! In every episode he trips over a lot and drops things.

I really enjoyed filming the latest episode because we go away as a family on a holiday. [3] We stay in a fancy hotel with a swimming pool and my brother falls in the pool with all his clothes on! He gets soaked. [4] Later that day, he spills his drink at lunch and then slips in the puddle. [5] Next week, we are filming an episode where my brother puts cleaning fluid on his hair instead of hair gel and his hair turns green. It's going to be so funny!

The story

The film starts with the departure of the Titanic from the port of Southampton in England in 1912. The story is told by Rose, a ______ of the disaster who is now very old. She narrates the events of that tragic night when the ship hit an iceberg and sank. Over a thousand passengers drowned at the time and the old lady retells her story to a present day rescue team searching the actual wreck.

Interesting

At the time, this was the most _____ film ever released. It cost #200 million. This is more than the original cost of building the Titanic.

The ship became famous because it was thought to be unsinkable. However, _____ it sank on its first voyage.

My opinion

I loved it. It surely has to be one of the greatest films of the 20th century. I _____ liked the real-life footage showing the wreck at the beginning of the film. The sets are fantastic and the acting is really good.

Ask and answer with your partner.

When was Titanic released?

It was released in 1997.

Did you always want to be an actor? Did she want you to do the show? How did you get the part? Yes, I did. or No, I didn't. Yes, she did. or No, she didn't. I got it after a film test.

7 Talking about films.

I watched a good film last week. It's called Titanic. It's an adventure about the famous ship that sank. It lasts three hours. It's very interesting and it has a great ending.

Useful questions are:

8 And you have ...

- made compound and complex sentences.
- edited texts for grammar and spelling mistakes.
- made notes about a book you have read.
- written email invitations.
- made a summary of a story orally and in writing.
- completed a fact file for a film.

What is your hobby?

Lesson 10

AB3

What are some of the most popular hobbies? Read the magazine article and find out.

Do you have a hobby? What is a hobby? Generally, this is something you do in your spare time for enjoyment and relaxation rather than something you do to earn money. Though sometimes a hobby can turn into a job. Hobbies can include collecting things, doing something creative or artistic, playing sports and other games or, of course, simply watching television. By continually participating in a particular hobby, one can acquire substantial skill and knowledge in that area.

If you live near the river, you may enjoy swimming or fishing. On a sweltering hot day, there is nothing more refreshing than jumping into the cool water and it's fun to race your friends to the other side. With enough practice, you may even get fast enough to train to enter competitions and one day compete in the Asian Games or the Olympics like Mohanad Ahmed Dheyaa Al-Azzawi did in 2012.

If swimming sounds like too much hard work, fishing may be more your kind of hobby. Traditionally, fishing is something fathers often enjoyed teaching their sons. Many people find there is nothing more relaxing than sitting next to a beautiful lake or river watching nature and feeling part of it. If you are really lucky, you may even catch something to take home for dinner!

Being creative and making things can also be extremely enjoyable. Jewellery making is a hobby which goes back many hundreds of years. You can make beautiful necklaces, bracelets and earrings using many different materials, including silver, glass beads and even shells. They make wonderful gifts for your family and friends, too!

Another ancient craft still popular in many homes is blanket weaving. Many communities share a loom and you can create beautiful patterns using wool, felt, silk or mohair. The patterns on the blankets can vary from region to region and popular colours are bright reds, oranges, browns, yellows and blues. You need a lot of patience for this hobby as it takes a long time to make one blanket, but it is something for your family to treasure for generations.

Find any new words you do not know the meaning of and look them up in a dictionary.

Label the photographs with the bold words from the text. Number the hobbies in the order you would like to try them: 1 being your favourite hobby and 5 being your least favourite.

The fastest living things

Lesson 5

AB40-42

Read the text and then suggest two possible titles for it.

Have you ever watched a falcon diving down from the sky? They are the fastest things in the natural world. They fly high up and then dive down to kill a bird or a small animal. Some falcons can dive at 240 kph!

More than a thousand years ago, the people from the deserts of Arabia, the Bedouin, used to watch falcons catching birds and animals for food. The Bedouin lived mostly on dates, milk and bread because it was difficult to catch animals and birds. Then they learned how to catch falcons. Soon, the Bedouin were eating meat their falcons caught for them. Their favourite bird was the large, long-legged houbara. They cooked it over a fire and it tasted delicious.

The Bedouin used to hunt on camels. They rode fast as they followed their flying falcons. Today, falconry is a sport, not a necessity, and many falconers arrive in the deserts and valleys of Muthanna, Samarra and Dhi Qar in Iraq in air-conditioned 4WDs.

One disadvantage of this sport is that too many rare birds might be killed. If nothing was done about this, there would soon be no birds left. However, the government has set up protected areas for birds. People cannot hunt there. These safe areas for birds are also good habitats for other animals. As a result, wildlife numbers have gone up and the environment is richer.

What do these words mean?

dive necessity government area environment

AB42-43

Do you care about wildlife?

Read the questionnaire and follow the instructions.

Caring for the natural world

How do you feel about nature? Choose your answers to these questions and find out.

What wou	AND RESIDENCE OF THE PARTY OF T			bird with a broken	wing in	your gard	den?

- (a) Ignore it. I hate birds.
- (b) Tell my parents.
- (c) Place it carefully in a small box with some soft bedding and feed it worms and fresh water until it got better.
- What would you do if you found a bird's nest with eggs in it?

- (a) Eat the eggs.
- (b) Take it to school to show all my friends.
- (c) Not touch it and check every few days to see if the eggs have hatched.
- If a bat came into your bedroom, what would you do?
- (a) Try to kill it with a broom.
- (b) Scream and run to another room.
- (c) Leave the window open and wait quietly for it to fly out.

- If you found a spider on your desk, what would you do?
- (a) Squash it with my book.
- (b) Scream and ask my friend to kill it.
- (c) Carefully capture it in a cup and release it outside.
- If you saw a wolf in the desert, what would you do?
- (a) Shoot it.
- (b) Chase it.
- (c) Stay very still and watch it.

About your answers

Give yourself points:

- (c) answers = 2 points
- (b) answers = 1 point
- (a) answers = 0 points
- If you have 10 points, you care quite a lot about wildlife.
- If you have fewer than 8 points, you need to learn more about wildlife.

Life on the marshes

www.derasatv.net

Look at the fact file. Ask and answer questions about the underlined information.

Example: Where can Marsh Arabs be found?

Way of life

Marsh Arabs can still be found living a traditional life in the marshlands in the south-east of Iraq. They raise domestic buffalo. Some sheep and cattle are also kept.

Crops such as rice, wheat and barley are grown by the Marsh Arabs. Most Marsh Arabs live in arched houses which they build from reeds. Their houses are usually about three metres wide and about six metres long. They are less than three metres high. Houses are built at the waterside or on artificial reed islands. Houses have entrances at both ends. One part of the house is for the family and the other half is for their animals. Guest houses are built separately. Traditional boats (mashhoof and tarrada) are used as transport.

Wildlife

Forty species of birds can be found in the marshlands.

The marshes were once home to millions of birds and the stopover for millions of other migratory birds, including flamingos, pelicans and herons as they travelled from Siberia to Africa.

What has changed in recent years?

40% to 60% of the Marsh Arabs are at risk because most of the wetland has dried up. Many species of birds are also at risk. Some are now extinct or near extinction. The draining of the marshes in the 1990s caused a significant change in the ecosystem. However, some of the marshes have recently been restored after flooding the area.

Active and passive

Where can people find 40 species of birds? Where can 40 species of birds be found?

Lesson 9

AB45-47

In this unit you have practised the following things:

1 Forming comparatives and superlatives of adjectives.

cold ⇒ colder ⇒ coldest useful ⇒ more useful ⇒ most useful dangerous ⇒ more dangerous ⇒ most dangerous

2 Making positive and negative comparisons with adjectives.

A bear is bigger than a wolf.

Monkeys are more interesting than sheep.

Small cars are less expensive than big ones.

A wolf is not as big as a bear. Snakes are not as dangerous as crocodiles.

3 Comparing present and past with used to.

Iraq is greener than it used to be.
There is more wildlife than there used to be.

4 Talking about things that may happen in the future.

What will happen if people continue to grow taller?

We will need bigger houses.

And talking about things that are not very likely to happen.

What would you do if you were bitten by an animal?

I would go to a doctor.

5 Expressing and (dis)agreeing with attitudes, feelings and opinions.

6 Using pronouns and possessive adjectives correctly.

Subject	Object	Possessive adj.
1	me	my
you	you	your he	him	his
she	her	her
it	it	its
we	us	our they	them	their

Examples:

My friend lent me his pen and I forgot to give it back to him.

At Eid, we give presents to our friends and they give presents to us.

7 Using passive forms.

Marsh Arabs can be found in the south-east of Iraq.

Traditional boats are used as transport.

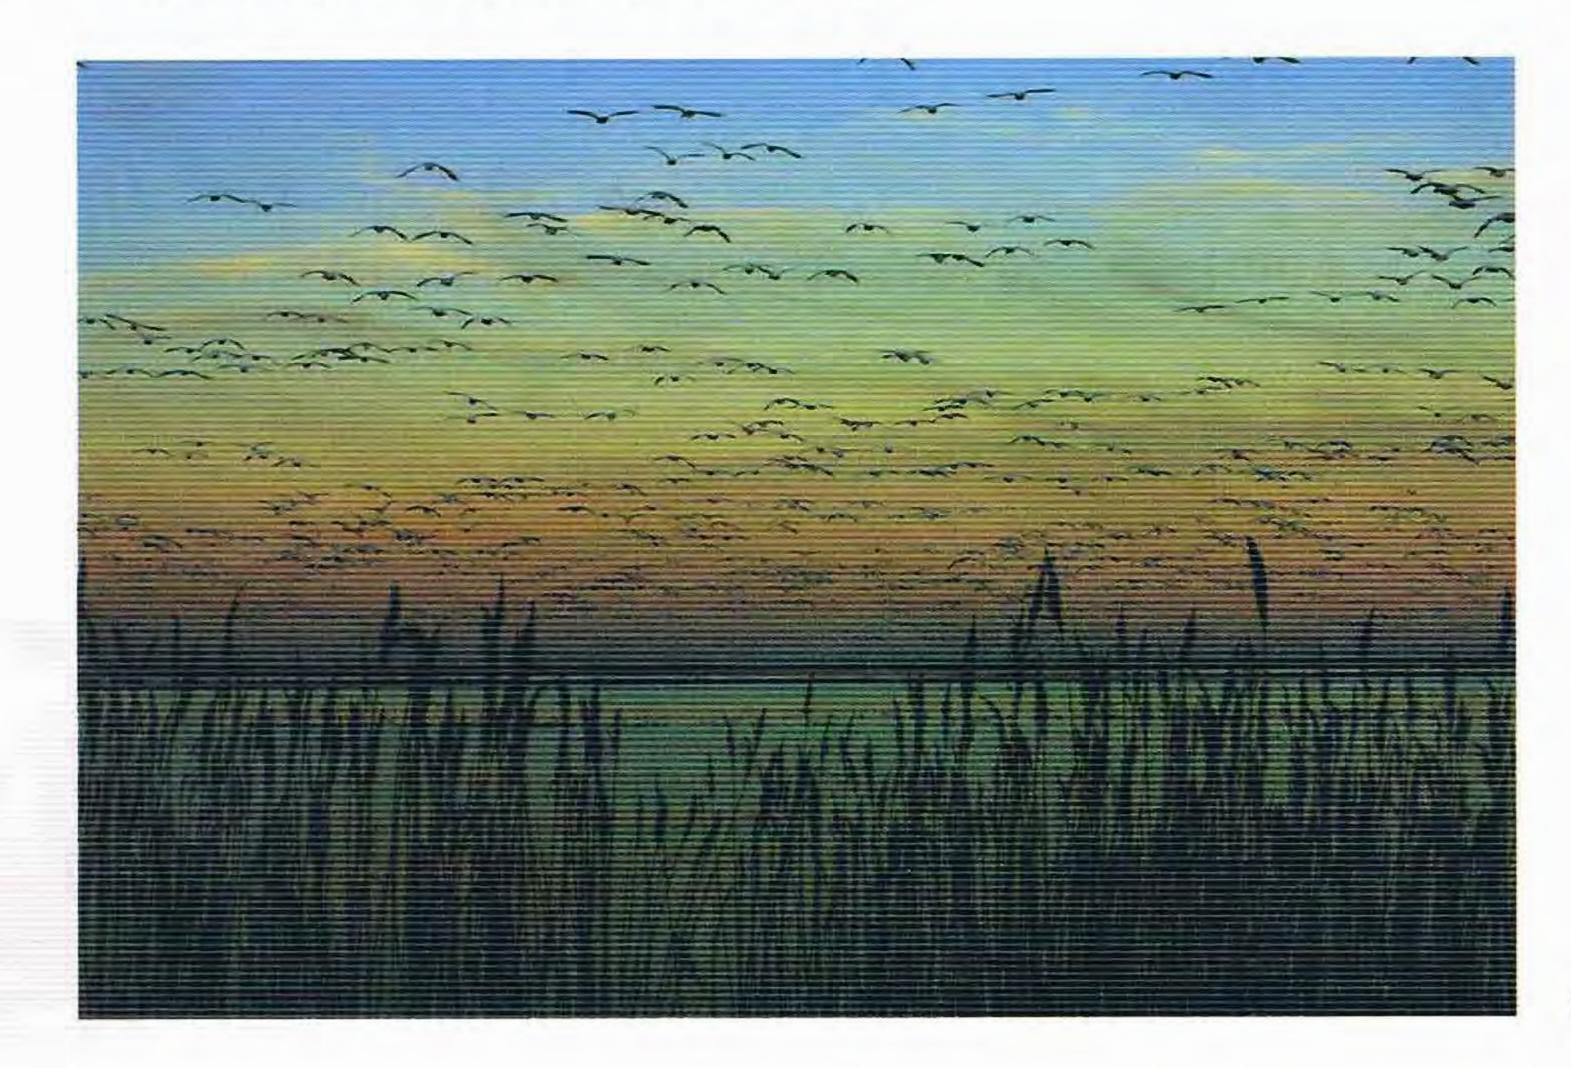

Domestic buffalo are bred and raised.

Crops are grown.

Some sheep and cattle are kept.

8 And you have ...

- learned spelling rules about double consonants.
- learned to understand inferences in a text.
- practised stressing words correctly.
- practised punctuation.
- written a questionnaire.
- written a fact file about wildlife in Iraq.

Unit 3

Lesson 10

AB47-48

Read the story and then try to answer these questions.

- 1 What dangers was the pregnant deer surrounded by?
- 2 Which of the dangers faced by the deer would you be most afraid of?
- 3 What happened to each of the dangers faced by the deer?
- 4 How did the deer face the negative thoughts and dangers?

Things happen in nature for a reason

What can the pregnant deer do? She is in labour! What will happen? Will the deer survive? Will she give birth to her fawn? Will the fawn survive? Or will everything be burnt by the forest fire? Is she going to be killed by the hunters' arrow? Will she die a horrible death at the hands of the hungry lion approaching her?

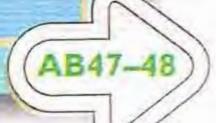

She is trapped by the fire on the one side the fast-flowing river on the other. She is also boxed in by her natural predators. What does she do? She focuses on giving birth to a new life. Nature is balanced and always observed by God. The deer stays quiet awaiting what will happen.

Lightning suddenly strikes and blinds the hunter. He releases the arrow which dashes past the deer and strikes the hungry lion. It starts to rain heavily. The forest fire is slowly doused by the rain. The deer gives birth to a healthy fawn. A new life begins.

In our lives too, there are moments of choice when we are confronted on all sides with negative thoughts and difficulties. Some thoughts are so powerful that they overcome us, making it difficult to think clearly and make sensible decisions. Maybe we can learn from the deer. The priority of the deer, in that given moment, was simply to give birth to her fawn. The rest was not in her hands. Any action or reaction that changed her focus would have most likely resulted in death or disaster. Next time you struggle with negative thoughts, ask yourself: Where is your focus? Where is your faith and hope? In the midst of any storm, do what you should do and leave the rest for God.

Lesson 1

№ 13–15

Listening

www.derasatv.net

Remember! When a person is speaking in English, you don't have to understand every word. Use these tips to help you.

Tip 1 - Listen for the loud, slow words.

People often say the important words more loudly and more slowly.

What are the important words here?

Can I have your attention, please? We have a report of a young boy missing in the shopping mall. His name is Jamal. He has curly black hair and brown eyes. He is seven years old and is wearing a red sweater, a white shirt and blue jeans. He also has white shoes and socks.

😭 📵 Listen to two speakers.

What are the important words in each case?

Tip 2 - Listen for the loud sounds in words.

Long words in English have one loud sound. This is often the only sound you will hear clearly from an English speaker. You must learn to recognize long words from the loud sound.

What are the loud sounds here?

attention

missing

curly sweater

🔐 🐠 Listen to some long words from the course.

Write the words you hear.

Tip 3 - Listen for repetition of the words.

Don't worry if you don't hear important information the first time. People often say the important information twice.

Notice how the speaker repeats the information in a different way.

That's a young boy called Jamal with curly black hair and brown eyes, wearing a red sweater, a white shirt and blue jeans.

🔐 🕕 Listen to two announcements.

Make a note of the important information in each case.

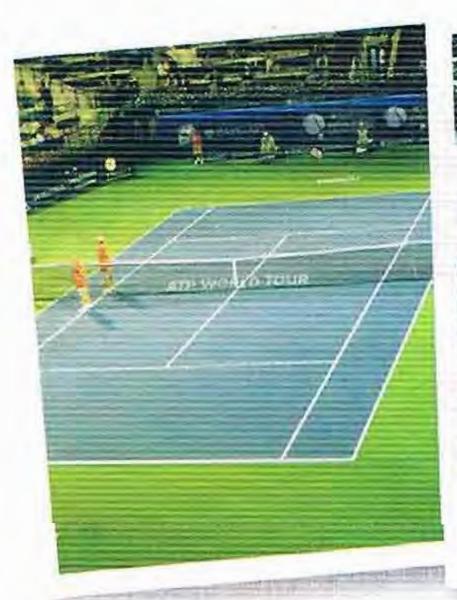

Remember! You should use the visual clues in a newspaper article, a magazine article or a story on the internet before you read. Use the tips below to help you to prepare.

Tip 1 - Look at any pictures.

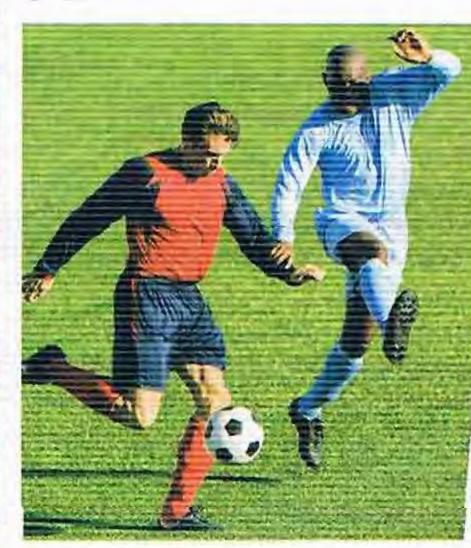

Look at the pictures before you look at the text. Think: What is this text about?

What words will be in the text?

Look at these pictures and follow Tip 1.

Tip 2 - Look at the headline or the title.

Look at the headline of the article or the title of a story before you look at the text. Think: What is this text about? Then read the text and think: Did I get it right?

Look at these headlines and titles.
What do you think each text is about?

The first school day

A dream comes true

How to learn English

Lost in the desert

Reading

Tip 3 - Read the first paragraph.

Newspaper story

The first paragraph tells you what the article is about. It usually tells you also:

- where the news happened
- when the news happened
- who was involved

Sometimes the whole article is just one paragraph.

Magazine article

The first paragraph tells you what the article is about. It also tells you if the article is in the first person (1). It talks about opinions or experiences.

Story

The first paragraph usually sets the scene. For example:

- where the story happened
- when the story happened
- who the main characters are

Read the first paragraph of the article on Student's Book page 7:

Car of the year

Read the first paragraph on SB pages 20 and 25:
Schoolgirl in a new TV comedy What is your hobby?

Read the first paragraph on SB page 37:
Things happen in nature for a reason

Tip 4 - Read the topic sentences.

Paragraphs in English usually begin with a topic sentence. This sentence prepares the reader for the information in the paragraph.

Magazine article

All the topic sentences together usually make a good summary of an article.

Story

All the topic sentences together usually give you the gist of the story.

Newspaper article

Topic sentences are not so important in newspaper articles. Each paragraph may only have one sentence.

Find and underline the topic sentences in the article on SB page 25: What is your hobby?

Find and underline the topic sentences on SB page 37:

Things happen in nature for a reason

What information is in these paragraphs?

A POPULAR HOBBY

If you live near the river, you may enjoy swimming or fishing.

If swimming sounds like too much hard work, fishing may be more your kind of hobby.

Another ancient craft still popular in many homes is blanket weaving.

HUNTING WITH BIRDS

More than a thousand years ago, the people from the deserts of Arabia, the Bedouin, used to watch falcons catching birds and animals for food.

The Bedouin used to hunt on camels.

One disadvantage of this sport is that too many rare birds might be killed.

Speaking

Lesson 3

Don't be lost for words! When you have a conversation in English, use these tips to keep it going!

Read these tips and practise in pairs.

Tip 1 - Ask people to repeat information.

If you don't understand something, don't just say 'Yes!' Ask the person to repeat the important information. You can ask in several ways.

Sorry? What was that?

Pardon?

What did you say?

I didn't get that.

AA Give your partner some information about yourself.

Ask your partner to repeat information. Use different ways.

Tip 2 - Repeat information.

You can repeat information from another person:

- to show that you don't understand
- to show that you are surprised
- before asking for more information
- before giving an opinion

Conversation 1

- I bought some trainers.
- o Trainers? What are they?
- They're the kind of shoes you wear for sports.

Conversation 3

- Hi, Sara. Have you seen Reem?
- o Reem? Who's that?
- She's the new girl.

Conversation 2

- Where are you?
- o I'm in a restaurant.
- In a restaurant?
- o Yes, I was hungry.

Conversation 4

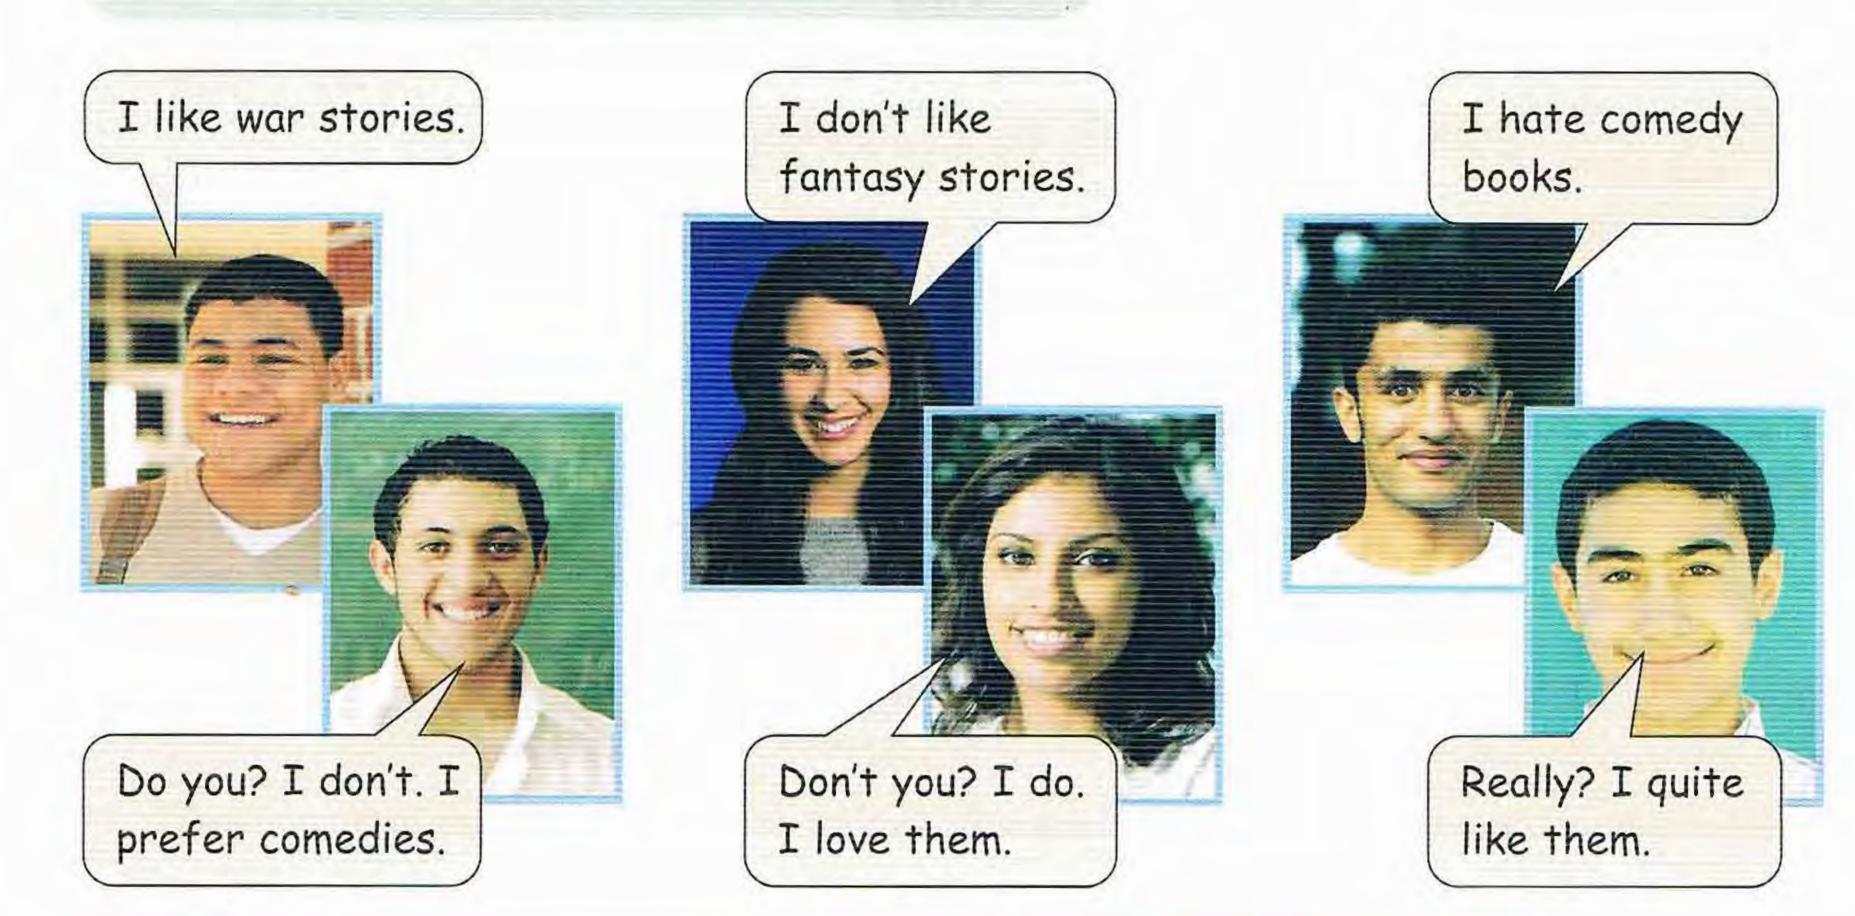

- What's Salah like?
- o Well, he's tall with green eyes.
- Green eyes? That's unusual.

AA Give your partner some information. Repeat the information you hear and continue the conversation.

Tip 3 - React to opinions.

When someone gives an opinion, react to it. It's a good idea to give your opinion, too.

Give an opinion. Use different verbs. React to the opinion.

Tip 4 - Ask open questions.

When you meet a person for the first time, don't ask closed questions. Always ask open questions.

Practise these conversations and notice the difference.

1 Closed questions

- Are you English?
- o No, American.
- Do you like Iraq?
- o Yes.
- Are you staying here long?
- o No.

2 Open questions

- Where are you from?
- o I'm from the USA. New York, actually.
- What do you like about Iraq?
- o Lots of things the people, the weather, the markets.
- How long are you staying here?
- o I'm not sure. Five or six days, I think. You see, it depends on ...

Tip 1 - Make a plan.

Make a plan with the information in a logical order.

Look at the paragraph headings for narrating a story. Write them in a logical order in your copybook.

- Give facts about the story title, author, when published.
- Introduce the topic.

- Give your own opinion.
- Introduce the main character(s).
- Tell the story, briefly, in order.

Tip 2 - Write a summary with topic sentences.

Write all the topic sentences before you write the whole invitation or story. Each topic sentence introduces the paragraph. Together they make a summary of the text.

Write these topic sentences for the story under the correct paragraph heading in your copybook.

- I read a very interesting book recently.
- It is about a boy called Jim Hawkins.
- Jim finds a map of an island.
- I think this story is excellent.
- It is called 'Treasure Island'.

Tip 3 - Make notes of the information in each paragraph.

Make notes after each topic sentence and give all the extra pieces of information

Write these notes after the correct topic sentence in your copybook.

- about pirates men who steal things at sea
- goes to island, finds treasure, pirates take treasure, Jim gets it back
- pirates take treasure

- Robert Louis Stevenson
- exciting, lots of action, frightening,
 Long John Silver escapes
- Long John Silver man with wooden leg
- 1883

Tip 4 - Write sentences from your notes.

Make each note into a sentence. Join short sentences with and or but.

Examples:

pirates take treasure: The pirates take the treasure.

Jim gets it back: Jim gets it back

The pirates take the treasure but Jim gets it back.

Use your notes to write sentences in your copybook. Write about a book you have read or a play/film you have seen recently. Follow the tips.

Dr Ramzi: I was born in Mosul.

Reporter: What were you doing before you became a famous dentist?

Dr Ramzi: Well, I was already a dentist, and I was reading a lot at home and keeping in touch with a large number of dentists in different countries around the world.

Reporter: I see. So what changed your life? Dr Ramzi: One day I was treating a tooth for one of my patients. It was badly decayed and needed to be pulled out. Everything was fine but all of a sudden the gum started bleeding. I tried and tried until I finally succeeded in stopping the bleeding. I resumed my work again. It was a lesson for me to work harder and find newer, smarter methods to treat bad teeth.

Reporter: What happened then?

Dr Ramzi: I participated in different workshops on using lasers in dentistry. I opened a large new dental clinic using modern equipment to make my work more successful.

Reporter: Are you happy with your work now?

Dr Ramzi: Oh, yes, very happy because I am helping people in my city to have healthy teeth. I also offer free treatment to poor families and to the families of Iraqi soldiers.

Graduation party reviews

Lesson 5

AB65-66

Sara and Dalia both went to the school graduation party featured in Unit 2, Lesson 7. They wrote reviews of the party for their school magazine. Read the reviews and answer the questions.

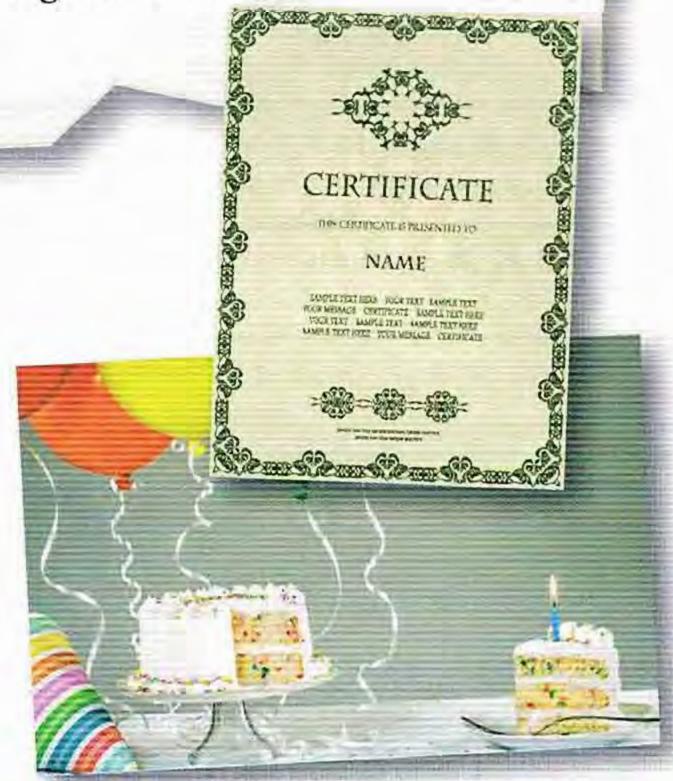

Amazing graduation day

Al-Quds Intermediate School hosted the concert of the year last Thursday. The party was really amazing. By 10 a.m., the hall was full and everybody was smiling. The students were wearing their uniforms and everyone was waiting patiently for the party to start. When the curtains went up on stage, the lights went down and a hush spread through the hall. The school arts team opened the show before some talented students did some solo performances. They all performed well and you could tell they had practised a lot. When they had finished, the audience clapped loudly. Dalia

School party

Last Thursday's party was supposed to start at 10 a.m. but when I arrived at 9.45 the hall was already full. I had to stand right at the back and I was struggling to see or hear anything. The students around me were chatting loudly while the arts team were performing. I'm not sure if the performance was any good as I couldn't hear much of it but the rest of the audience clapped at the end so they were enjoying it. I was disappointed I didn't enjoy it as much. Next time, I will try and get there earlier to make sure I get a good seat. Sara

In English, there are a number of ways of talking about the future. Here we use will and the main verb to talk about events in the future that we cannot control. It expresses a definite fact or opinion about the future. The science activities will start at 9.15.

When will the sport activities finish?

Ask and answer with your partner about the events in the table. Ask about when events will start and how long they will go on for.

When will the art activities start?

The art activities will start at 8.00 on Sunday 12 April.

Unit 5

Lesson 8

A website for me

Before launching a new magazine or website, it's good to do some research to find out what the readers find interesting. Read the following information about the popularity of sports in different countries.

The most popular sport in the world is football (or soccer as some people know it). Football is the top sport in many countries, including Iraq, the UAE and the UK. In the USA, most people prefer American football while in India cricket is the favourite. In China, the most popular sport is basketball. Which sport is your favourite?

Imagine you are creating a new magazine or website for the students in your school. What would you include? Do a survey of your classmates and find out what the most popular features are. Create a tally chart in your notebooks to show the results.

Example:

sport	HH 111
music	HH fashion
puzzles	HH 1
true stories	HH HH
cartoons	HH HH II

AA Work with a partner and discuss the results of your survey. Use the words most, some and a few.

Most people like reading cartoons. It's the most popular feature. Some people enjoy true stories and sport and a few people like music and puzzles best. The least popular feature is fashion.

A powerful lesson for everyone

STANS

Read the story. What was the 'powerful lesson'?

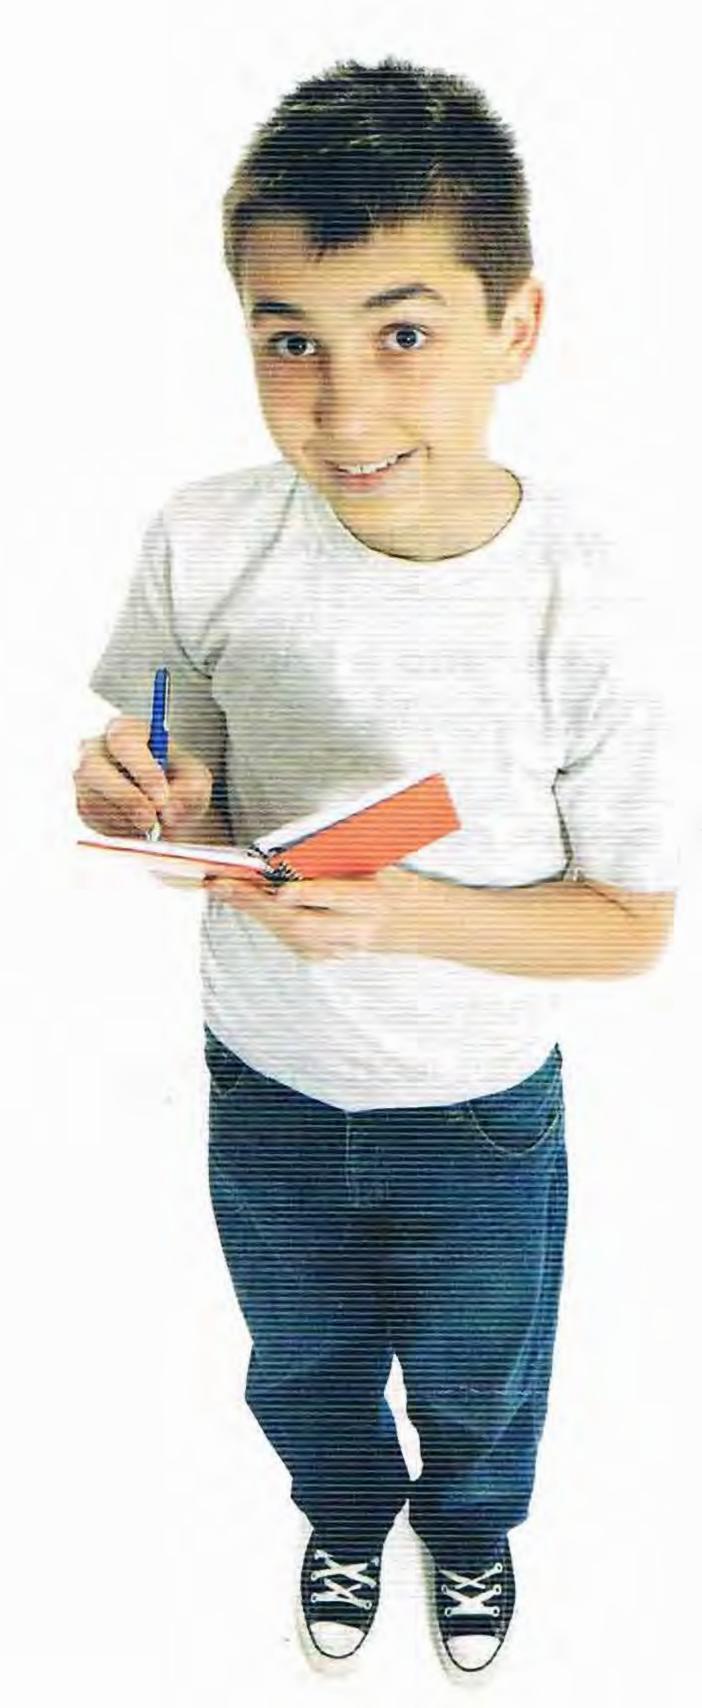

Every year, Al Sabah newspaper makes a special offer to two young students from local schools. In the summer holidays these students can work as reporters on the paper. They can see what reporters really do in their jobs and they can learn to write reports. Last summer, Salam Ahmed was the lucky boy. He was 15 years old and he wanted to be a reporter. On his first day at the paper he took a new reporter's notebook. One of the reporters was showing Salam his desk when the editor came in and said, 'A big new restaurant is opening in Baghdad next Tuesday. I need someone to write a good report on the event.'

On Tuesday Salam took his notebook and camera and went into the new restaurant. Salam watched everything, but one special thing attracted his attention. A young boy was taking his old father, who was in a wheelchair, to the restaurant for a treat. The boy bought his father some food. The father was very old and weak and dropped food on his shirt and trousers while he ate. Many of the other customers watched the old man in disgust but his son looked at him with love and respect.

After the old man had finished eating, his son, who was not at all embarrassed, quietly took him to the washroom and patiently wiped the food from his clothes, combed his hair and straightened his spectacles. When they came out, the entire restaurant was watching them in dead silence, not able to grasp how someone could embarrass themselves publicly like that.

The son, very proud and pleased, started walking out through the crowd with his father. As they left, a wise old man called out to the son and asked him, 'Don't you think you have left something behind?'

The son replied, 'No sir, I haven't.'

The old man said, 'Yes, you have! You left a lesson for every son and hope for every father.'

The restaurant went silent. Salam was watching everything and followed the boy and his father. After asking them questions and taking notes, he thanked the boy and kissed the old man on his head. Salam made his very first report about this touching story and it was praised by everyone.

Lesson 1

Jobs and workplaces

AB75

AA Talk about the pictures.

- 1 Write the names of the numbered workplaces.
- 2 Name one or two jobs for each workplace.
- 3 Take turns describing the jobs.

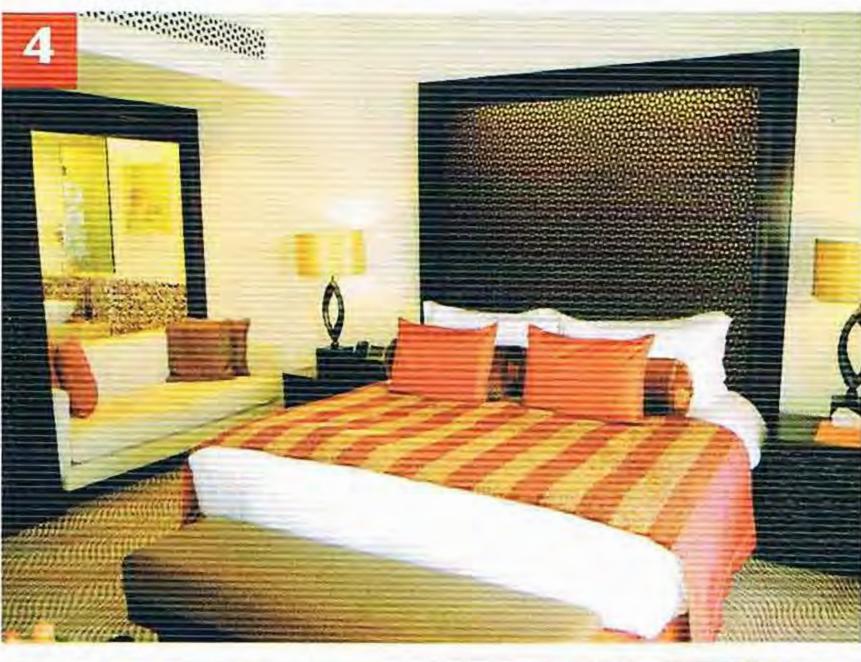

Example:

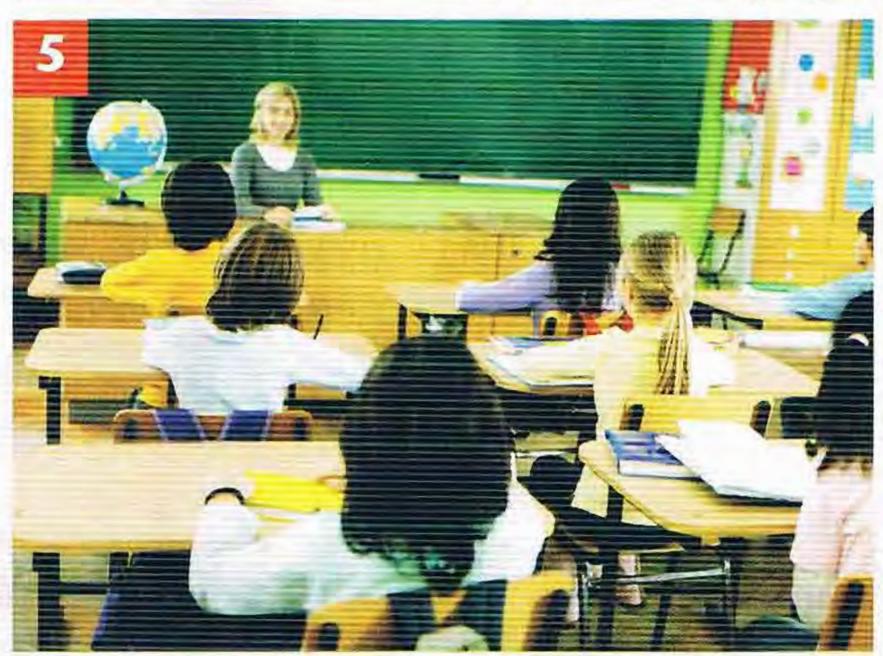

A mechanic is someone who works in a garage and repairs cars and vans.

Read the definitions and write the jobs.

Lesson 2

AB76

Someone who ...

- 1 plans buildings
- 2 flies a plane
- 3 plays football
- 4 writes books
- 5 designs websites

- 6 takes care of sick animals
- 7 flies in a rocket
- 8 takes photographs
- 9 looks after people's teeth
- 10 paints rooms

Play a game: Who um I?

Describe a job. Tell your partner as much as you can, but don't make it too easy! Think about the prompts below when you ask about your partner's job.

I work outside a lot. I'm very fit and healthy. I have to train for three hours every day. People come to watch me.

- Who usually works outside?
- Who has to travel?
- Who works alone?
- Who has to work with animals?
- Who has to go to university to do this job?
- Who has to give people orders?
- Who has to be very fit?
- Which jobs are dangerous?

Discussion

Would you like to do any of the jobs on these pages? Why? Why not?

I'm going to leave school as soon as I'm 16. (The speaker has made a plan.)
You will only get pocket money (The speaker is talking about something if you stay at school.

in the future that is certain.)

Layla and Dania are twins aged fifteen and a half. They go to the same secondary school. Today, they are getting advice from their headteacher.

What are the main differences between Layla and Dania?

Headteacher: Good morning, Layla. Please sit down. How can I help you?

Layla: I don't know.

Headteacher: Well, do you have any career plans?

Layla: Career plans? No, I haven't got any plans.

Headteacher: None at all?

Layla: No ... Actually, I do have a plan. I'm going to leave school as Headteacher: I see ...

Headteacher: Hello, Dania.

Dania: Good morning, Headteacher.

Headteacher: Well now, Dania, do you have any career plans?

Dania: Oh, yes, Headteacher. I'm going to be a vet.

Headteacher: A vet? That's a tough course, and it takes a long time at university.

Dania: Yes, I know. I've found out all about it and I'm going to do it.

Headteacher: Excellent! Now ...

Student A Do you have any career plans?

Student B Actually, I do have a plan. I'm going to go to university. I want to be a doctor.

Student A That's a tough course. And it will be a lot of work.

Student B It'll be worth it.

The school of the future

Lesson 4

AB77

Hassan has entered a competition to design a school of the future. Read his entry and match these headings to the paragraphs.

- a) A 'super school'
- b) Global education
- c) Virtual learning

- Schools in the future will be very different to schools now. There will be much more technology and students will only need to come in to the actual school buildings once or twice a week. Most of the teaching and learning will take place over computers which are connected to the internet in students' own homes. Teachers will deliver lessons using the internet at times to suit each student. Students will also be able to use the internet to communicate and discuss work with other students.
- I think there will be fewer small schools in the future because students will learn mostly at home. There will be one 'super school' in each town or city that students of all ages come to and use the fantastic facilities. There will be sports facilities, a science park, a museum and a mosque. Young people who are interested in science or music will be able to study at the special buildings designed for those subjects.
- This new way of learning will make it possible for students to connect with other students and teachers all over the world. If someone has a special interest in something, they can search a global database to find a teacher who can teach that student all about their chosen specialism. The schools of the future will teach many subjects that are important for Iraq's future because students will be able to learn from experts all around the world.

Giving more information about people and things:

A famous career

Read the text quickly. Try to work out the meaning of the underlined words. Check your answers in Activity Book Exercise A.

Ibn al-Haitham

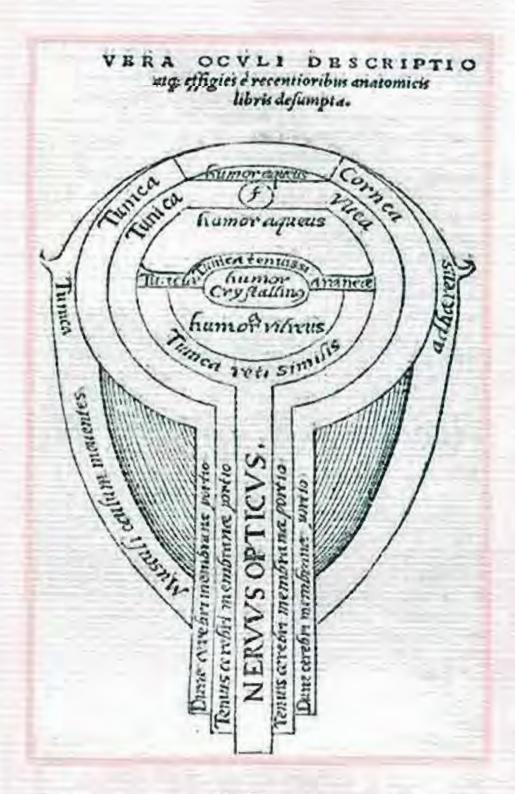

Diagram of the human eye

bu Ali al-Hasan Ibn al-Haitham, known to the west as Al-Hazen, was born in 965 in Basra, Iraq. He received his education in Basra, Baghdad and later travelled to Egypt and Spain. In Medieval Europe, Ibn al-Ḥaitham was called 'The Physicist'. He is also sometimes called 'al-Basri' after his birthplace Basra in Iraq.

We don't know much about Ibn al-Haitham's early career, but the Caliph in Egypt needed him to regulate the flooding of the River Nile. He proposed a hydraulic system but the task was impractical at that time. During his stay in Spain, he contributed to the fields of mathematics, physics, medicine, scientific methods and especially optics.

Ibn al-Haitham was known as the 'Father of optics' for his great contributions in the field of optics. He was one of the most eminent physicists who ever lived. All the Medieval and western scientists on optics based their work on Ibn al-Haitham's theories on light and optics. His most famous work is Kitaab al Manazir (Book of Optics) which is in seven volumes. This great work was translated into Latin and many other languages. He made many experiments on the movement of light, colours, optical illusions and reflections. Also, he discovered the laws of refraction and gave a scientific explanation of the parts of the eye and the process of vision. This successful and famous mathematician, astronomer, optician and physicist died in 1040, possibly in Cairo.

In 2015, UNESCO celebrated Ibn al-Haitham's achievements in optics, mathematics and astronomy. With the help of some science centres, the short educational film 1001 Inventions and the World of Ibn Al-Haytham was produced.

According to medieval biographers, Ibn al-Haitham wrote more than 200 works on a wide range of subjects. Most of his works are now lost, but more than 50 of them have survived to some extent.

Round up

In this unit you have practised the following things:

1 Talking about the future.

I'm going to leave school as soon as I'm 16. (The speaker has made a plan.)
You will only get pocket money. (The speaker is talking about something in the future that is certain.)

2 Using clauses with who, which or that to identify people and things.

Use who for people and which or that for things.

A vet is someone who takes care of sick animals. That's the dog that frightened my little sister.

3 When to use and when not to use a, an, the before nouns.

- 'a' when talking about one thing in a general way: Can I have a pen, please? before jobs: I want to be a teacher.
- 'an' before a vowel: Can I have an apple, please?
- 'the' when talking about a particular thing or one already mentioned:

 The pen on your desk is mine.
- 'the' when there is only one of these in the world. The sun is shining.

Don't use a before things that cannot be counted: I need (some) fresh milk.

Don't use a, an or the

- before the names of school subjects: I'm good at history.
- before the names of places: We go to Dohuk for our holidays.
- after 'like' ...
 - (a) before plural nouns if they are general: I like apples.

But: I like the apples that grow in our garden.

(b) before things you can't count: I don't like meat.

But: I liked the meat that we had for dinner last night.

4 Asking for and giving directions.

Can you tell me how to get to the Grand Hotel?

Go to the traffic lights. Turn left at the lights. Go straight along East Street. The Grand Hotel is on the right.

5 And you have ...

- talked about jobs you would and wouldn't like to do.
- studied paragraphs.
- written a paragraph about your plans for the future.
- listened to conversations and taken notes.
- interviewed someone and used your notes to write about the person's career.

- 3 Which reply is the worst advice for Mona. Why?

Mona is 18. She has been worrying about what she is going to do after her exams next year. Some of her friends are planning to go to college and study further. Others are leaving school and getting jobs in shops and offices. Mona is confused and cannot decide what is best for her, so she starts a blog and invites anyone and everyone to give her some ideas and advice.

Hi everyone. I'm Mona. Please help me decide what to do when school finishes next year. Shall I get a job or shall I continue studying? I really don't know what job I want to do. I enjoy science, maths and art and I am getting good grades, but I really don't like being away from home. Thanks! Mona

Q+ Google

Hi Mona. I think you should give up school and work in a shop. You could live at home and you would be using your maths every day. You would have money to spend from your job too! © Fatima

Hi Mona — you should really go to college. Until you decide what job you want, you need to stay in education. Ask your teachers for advice and do some research about different jobs and how you become qualified to do them. If you find a job you really enjoy, you will be much happier! Fouza

Mona, make sure you apply for university now. You are good at some very important subjects and you must study medicine. It will take a long time to become a doctor but you will earn good money and have a very important job. Give up art — it is useless and will not help you in life. Leena

Dear Mona, I think you need to go to language school in another country like me. It's great fun and you meet lots of new people. Dalia

Different countries, different customs

Lesson 2

AB85-86

Find names of the following in the texts very quickly:

3 countries 1 city 2 days 5 forms of transport

Different ways of getting around

- * Holland is very flat, so people there often ride bicycles.
- * People who live in Africa usually travel by bus.
- * North Americans hardly ever walk. They nearly always use cars.
- * Because London is an extremely crowded city, most people who work there travel by bus or underground every day.
- * People who live in Indian cities often travel by rickshaw.

Business hours

British schools and government offices are usually closed on Saturdays and Sundays. Shops used to close on Sundays, but now most of them are open. Banks and post offices are open on Saturday mornings. People who work in Britain often start work at nine in the morning and finish at half past five in the afternoon. Business hours in European countries that have hotter climates than Britain are different. Shops and offices close after lunch and open again at four or five in the afternoon.

Time adverbs

- 1 Some time adverbs give a definite time: every day, in the morning
- 2 Some time adverbs give an indefinite time: often, usually

Week 1: John Wilson, from the United Kingdom, goes on a journey through Africa down the Nile, the longest river in the world. He travels by boat for most of his journey. It begins at Lake Victoria and follows the White Nile to Khartoum. It continues slowly down to Lake Nasser in Egypt, past the cities of Aswan, Asyut and Cairo. John has many adventures before he reaches the end of his journey at the Mediterranean Sea.

Week 2: Alan Bridges, from Australia, aims to do the 1,000-kilometre journey through the Himalayas from India to China. He does the first 250 kilometres on horseback, riding carefully through the foothills of the mountains to Mount Everest. Then he climbs higher on foot for another 100 kilometres. Although this is very tiring, Alan says it is the best way to enjoy the fantastic scenery. Although he soon becomes exhausted and is unable to complete the whole distance, this programme still makes wonderful viewing.

Week 3: Fareed Lafta, from Iraq, travels by hotair balloon over the world's largest desert, the Sahara. Lafta's goal is to fly right across the desert from the Atlantic Ocean to the Red Sea. The journey ends unhappily with a helicopter rescue in Niger, but there are fantastic views of the Sahara from the balloon before the adventure comes to its unexpected end.

Adverbs and adverbials

These give information about a verb. They tell us how, where and when something happens.

For example: We got here very quickly. (how)

Adverbs are single words (quickly).

Adverbials are phrases: We left on Tuesday. (when)

Find 8 adverbs or adverbials in the text on page 68.

Word order

Time/ Put indefinite time and frequency adverbs before the verb:

Frequency: I sometimes go swimming.

Put definite time adverbs at the beginning or end of a sentence or clause.

After school, I'm going to have a swim. I'm going to have a swim after school.

Manner: Put adverbs of manner after the verb or the object:

They walked slowly.

They crossed the desert on foot.

Place: Put adverbs of place after the verb or object.

I gave my homework to my teacher.

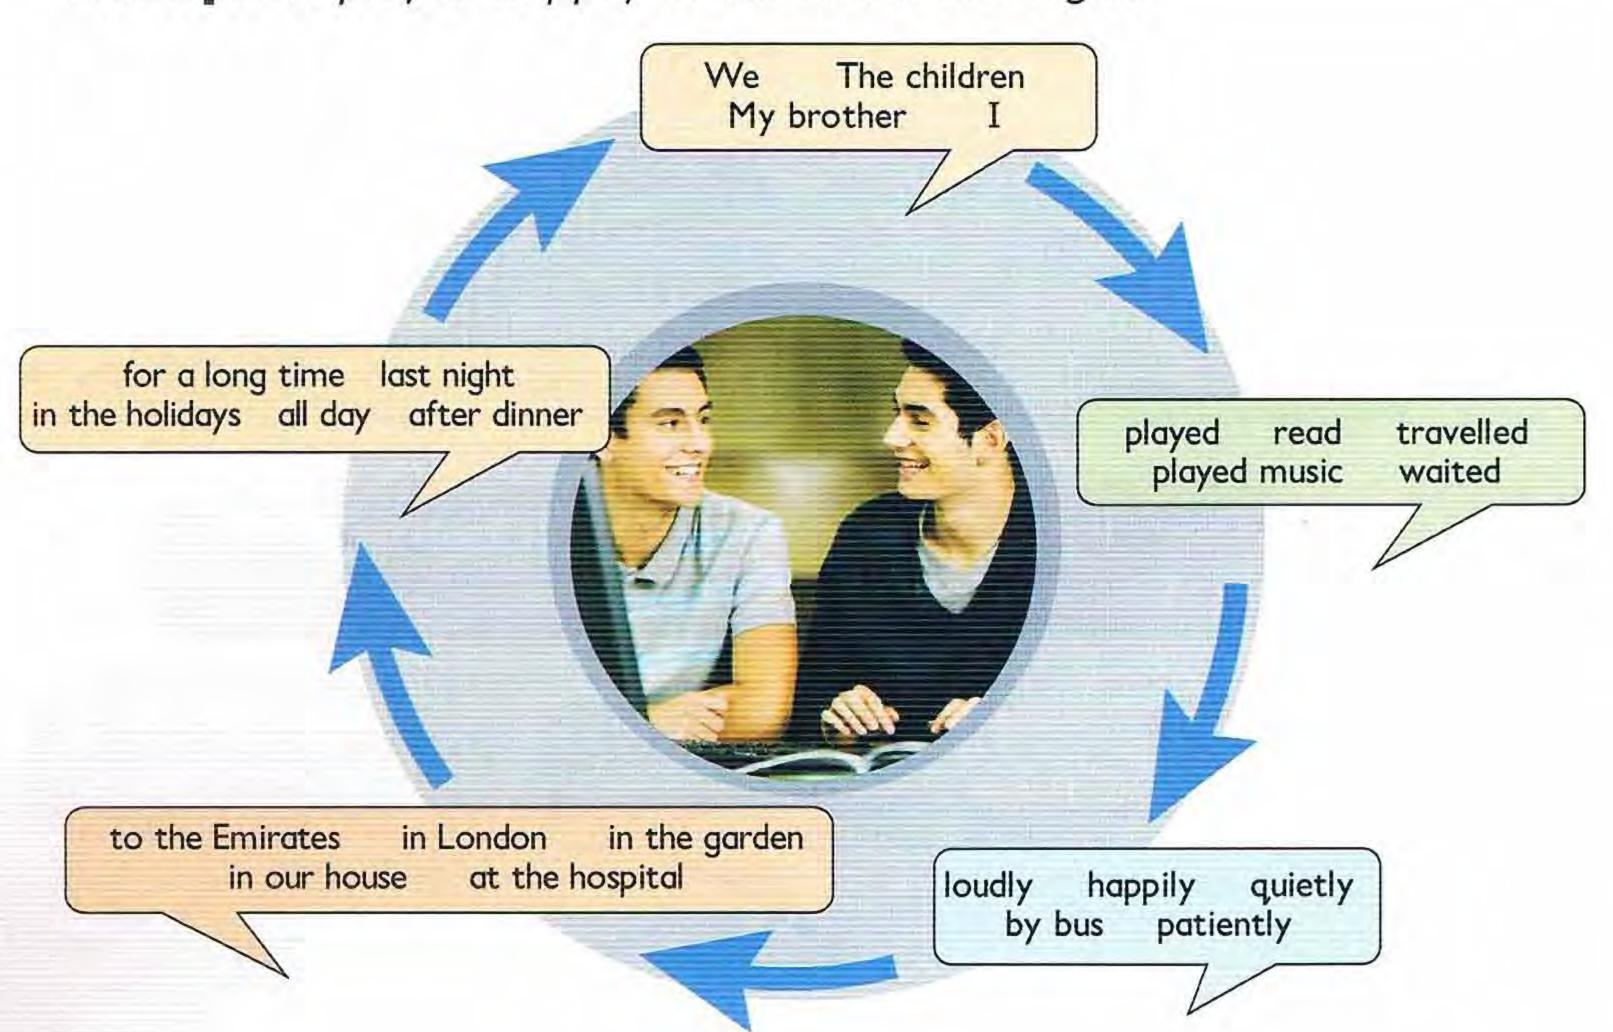

If you have three adverbials, the usual order is Manner, Place, Time:

My friend sang very well (M) at the concert (P) last night (T).

Two African countries

Lesson 6

AB92-93

What do you know about these countries?

Read the texts and do the Activity Book exercises.

LIBYA

Area	1,759,541 sq. km.
Population	6,244,174
Currency	Libyan dinar
Language	Arabic

Libya is a large country in North Africa with a long coastline on the Mediterranean Sea. Most of the population live in and around the capital, Tripoli, and the second city, Benghazi. The rest of the country is mostly desert and mountain. It can be quite cold in the mountain areas in winter, but, in general, the climate is hot and dry. In the spring and autumn the ghibli, a hot, dry wind that carries sand, blows. Then the temperature can rise very fast. The highest temperature in the world, 58 degrees centigrade, was recorded in Libya in 1972.

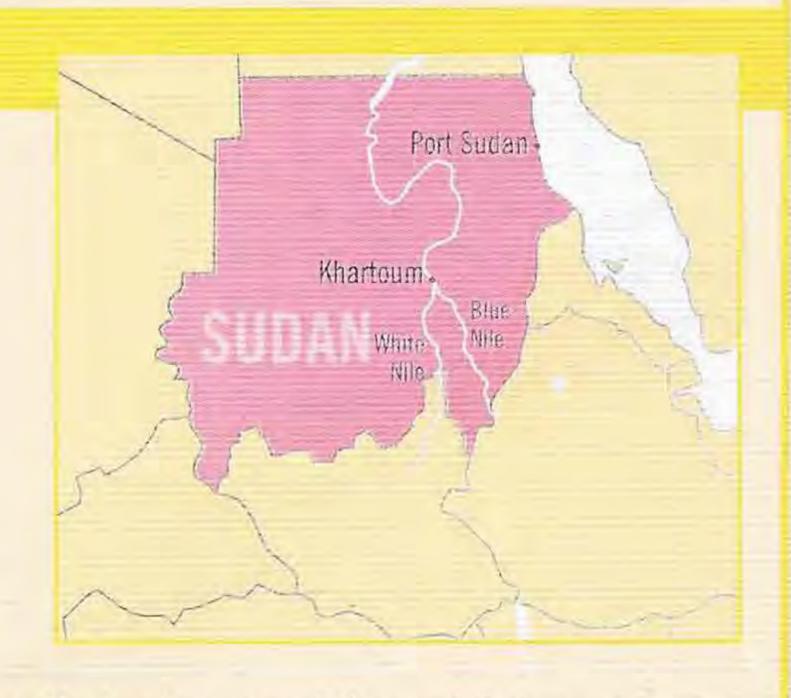

In the narrow, fertile northern area, agriculture is important and a lot of food is produced. Many people farm sheep, goats and cattle. However, Libya's main product is oil. It also has natural gas. The country has some magnificent ancient places to visit such as Leptis Magna, an important city 2,600 years ago.

SUDAN

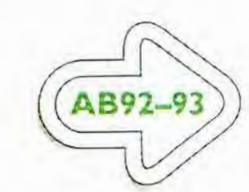

Area	612,184 sq. km.
Population	12,681,647
Currency	Sudanese pound
Language	Arabic

Sudan is the third largest country in Africa. Most of the north is desert, but there are flat grasslands in the centre and forests and high mountains in the south and west. Two rivers, the Blue Nile and White Nile, join at Khartoum, the capital. These are the country's main source of water.

The main crops and exports are cotton and sugar. Sudan has one of the world's largest sugar refineries. Sudan is the world's main producer of gum arabic. Animal farming is also important.

How much do you know about the Asian Games? Can you answer these questions?

- 1 How often do the Games take place?
- 2 When did they begin?
- 3 Whose idea was it to hold the Games?
- 4 Where were the first Games held?
- 5 Where and when were the last Games held?
- 6 Has Iraq won any medals in the Games?

Listen and read the text and check your ideas or find the answers.

THE ASIAN GAMES

The Asian Games are held every four years. Young people from all over Asia compete in more than 30 kinds of sport. It is an exciting festival. Strength and skill are tested and friendships are built between people from different countries. The Games are also an opportunity for cultural exchange because the programme includes musical performances and exhibitions of architecture and the arts.

HISTORY OF THE GAMES

The Asian Games were started after the end of the Second World War. The idea was to build international friendship through sport. This idea came from India, so the first Games were held in the Indian capital, New Delhi, in 1951. In that year, 489 athletes from 11 countries took part in the Games. Since then, the number has grown, and now more than 40 countries compete in the Games.

THE OCA

The Asian Games are organized by the OCA. These letters stand for the Olympic Council of Asia. Forty-five countries and regions are members of the OCA, and most of them have won medals at the Games.

WHERE THEY'VE BEEN HELD

Most recently the Asian Games have been held in Doha, Qatar (2006), Guangzhou, China (2010), and Incheon, South Korea (2014).

IRAQ'S RECORD IN THE GAMES

An Iraqi team has attended the Asian Games seven times since 1974. Up to 2014, Iraq has won six gold medals, 15 silver medals and 23 bronze medals, which is unusually good for a country in a difficult situation. An extraordinary Iraqi competitor was Ali Adnan Amir, who at just 10 years old competed in a men's 200m individual medley heat at the Asian Games in Doha, Qatar on 6 December 2006.

Round up

Lesson 9

AB96

In this unit you have practised the following things:

1 Adverbs of time

Adverbs of time tell us when something happens.

Examples of definite time adverbs: yesterday, every day, in the morning Examples of indefinite time adverbs: often, usually

2 Adverbs of manner

Adverbs of manner tell us how something happens.

They can be single words: slowly, well

They can be phrases: by car, on foot, in a friendly way

Single adverbs of manner often end in ly.

3 Adverbs of place

Adverbs of place tell us where something happens.

They can be single words: here, there

They can be phrases with a preposition: in the house, on the table

4 Word order for adverbials

Indefinite time adverbs go before the verb: I sometimes go swimming.

Definite time adverbs can go at the beginning or end of a sentence or clause.

After school, I'm going to have a swim.

I'm going to have a swim after school.

Adverbs of manner go after the verb or the object:

They walked slowly.

They crossed the desert on foot.

If you have two adverbs of manner, you can choose the order in which to put them:

They crossed the desert slowly on foot.

They crossed the desert on foot slowly.

Adverbs of place go after the verb or object:

I gave my homework to my teacher.

With three adverbs, the usual order is Manner, Place, Time:

My friend sang very well (M) at the concert (P) last night (T).

The highest temperature ever was recorded in Libya in 1972. (by? We don't know.)

Leptis Magna was built around 2,6000 years ago. (by? We don't know.)

6 Past simple and present perfect tenses

The past simple tense is used for ...

events that happened at definite times in the past:

I saw him an hour ago.

I read that book last year.

• events that happened over time in the past:

I lived in that house when I was little.

I ate lots of sweets when I was on holiday.

The present perfect tense is used for ...

• events that began in the past, but not at a definite time:

I have been to England.

I have seen that TV show.

events that happened in the past and are still continuing:

I have been in this school for three years.

I have lived in this house since I was three.

And you have ...

- talked about different ways of getting around.
- asked and answered questions about using English.
- noted details in a recorded narrative and used them to write a summary.
- read factual texts about other countries.
- written about souvenirs and customs.
- found out about a country and written two paragraphs.

AB97

Read the following story and try to answer the questions.

- Why did the professor bring different cups for the coffee?
- 2 Look at the underlined words. What do they mean?
- 3 What is the moral lesson of the story?

Life is like a cup of coffee

A group of alumni from different Iraqi provinces, highly established in their careers, agreed to visit their old university professor. He is an Indian who lives in Hyderabad. They heard that he was very sick. The alumni, two from Al Muthanna, two from Diyala, one from Tikrit and one from Dhi Qar, decided to take the plane from Baghdad to Hyderabad. When the plane landed in Hyderabad, they took a train to the city centre and from there they went to the house of their professor by rickshaw. They reached his place easily. He was very excited to see them.

Conversation started and soon turned into complaints about stress in work and life. Offering his guests coffee, the professor went to the kitchen and returned with a large pot of coffee and an assortment of cups – porcelain, plastic, glass, crystal, some plain looking, some expensive, some exquisite. He told the guests to help themselves to the coffee.

When everyone had a cup of coffee in hand, the professor said, 'If you noticed, all the nice looking expensive cups have been taken up, leaving behind the plain and cheap ones. While it is normal for you to want only the best for yourselves, that is the source of your problems and stress.

'Be assured that the cup itself adds no quality to the coffee. In most cases it is just more expensive and in some cases even hides what we drink. What all of you really wanted was coffee, not the cup, but you consciously went for the best cups ... And then you began eveing each other's cups.

'Now consider this: life is the coffee. The jobs, money and position in society are the cups. They are just tools to hold and contain life, and the type of cup we have does not define, nor change the quality of life we live.

'Sometimes, by concentrating only on the cup, we fail to enjoy the coffee. Savour the coffee, not the cups! The happiest people don't have the best of everything. They just make the best of everything.'

The alumni fully understood the lesson, and made their former professor feel happy.

They went back to Iraq after a week as wiser men.

Live simply. Love generously. Care deeply. Speak kindly.

Listening

Why it is important to listen carefully

- 1 to hear information correctly.
- 2 to hear grammatical points because they carry meaning.
- 3 to hear how the speaker feels. Sometimes meaning is carried in the way someone speaks rather than in the words themselves.

😭 🚳 Listen to the conversations and answer the questions.

As you listen, read these sentences. What tenses are used? Why?

- 1 Which of these does Hamid say?
 - (a) will help you ...
 - (b) I would help you ...
 - (c) You have been helped ...

- 1 Who says these sentences?
 - (a) I've worked with this company for ten years.
 - (b) You worked with this company for ten years.
- 2 What does Mr Pearson mean?

Choose the correct tense for each verb.

- 1 Fadia: (a) I'm phoning/did phone about the class magazine.
- 2 Haya: (a) Oh, yes, I'm writing/have written the town news article.
 - (b) You'll have/had it tomorrow.
 - (c) I'm going to write/I have written it this evening.

😘 🚳 Listen again. Note down the feelings of all the speakers.

Reading

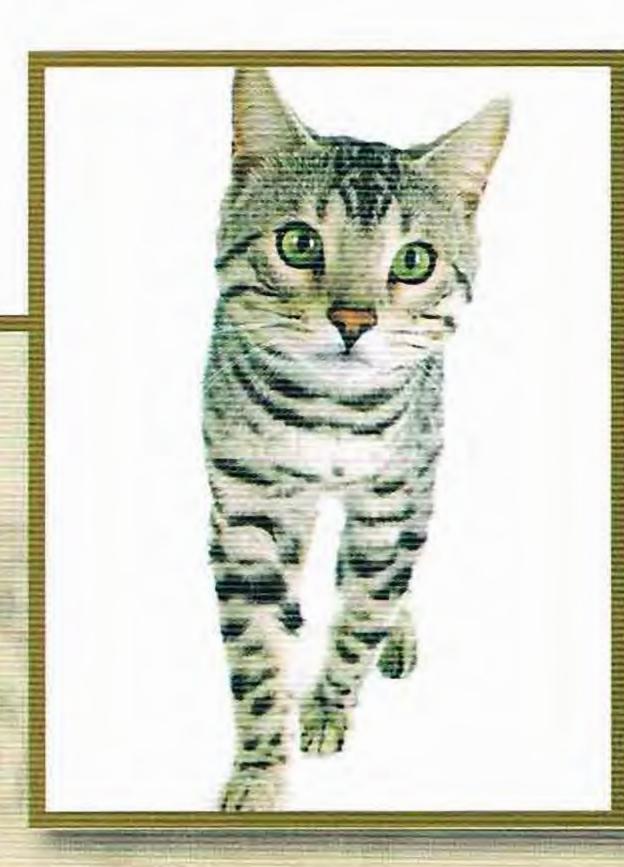

Read the title and the words in red. Then shut your book. How much do you know about the story?

Rafal is a 14-year-old schoolgirl. She lives with her family in a house in Baghdad. She likes animals and has two pet cats. Her school is not far from her house, so she walks every day with her friends. In the winter, it gets dark very early, so then they walk home from school in the dark.

One day in November, Rafal saw this newspaper headline: Rare cat missing from TV studios. Rafal was interested. The story was about a famous cat called Paulo that appeared on one of Rafal's favourite TV shows. The cat had been missing for two days and the owner was worried it may have been stolen,

That afternoon Rafal had to go home on her own. Her friends were staying at school for extra English lessons. 'I'm worried about that missing cat,' thought Rafal. 'I hope it's been found now.' As she was walking along, Rafal began to feel that there was something behind her. It sounded like a small animal padding along a few metres away. 'It's probably a stray cat or dog,' she said to herself. When she looked round, she could not see anything. Nevertheless, she started walking more slowly to see if the small footsteps would return.

Rafal was not far from her home when she heard a meow, 'Meow.' It made her jump. She looked around and saw something moving near a fence on the other side of the road. 'It's just a stray cat,' Rafal told herself. Suddenly, the creature ran from behind the fence and dashed across the road in front of her. Rafal could hardly believe her eyes! The 'stray cat' was Paulo from the TV show!

Rafal gently approached Paulo and stroked it. It purred and seemed to like her. She managed to pick it up and carry it home. After explaining the story to her mother and giving Paulo some food and milk, they called the TV studio and told them they had Paulo. The owner and the TV studio were so pleased to have Paulo back that Rafal was rewarded with a tour of the studio.

Now read the sentences in red and blue. Then shut your book and tell the story.

Find these words and work out their meaning:

Lesson 4

After you do a piece of writing, you should always edit it for mistakes.

AA First, study the mistakes in red in this piece of writing. Correct each mistake and use the key to identify which kind of mistake it is. Then think about the order of the paragraphs.

More than thousand years ago, people used to watch falcons catching for food birds and animals. The Bedovin lived mostly on dates, milk and bread. It was difficult to catch animals and birds. Then they have learned how to catch falcons. Soon, the Bedovin were eating meat there falcons for them caught. Their favourite bird was the large long-legged houbara. They cooked it over a fire and it tasted delicious.

Did you ever watch a falcon diving down from sky?? They are the fast things in the natural world. They fly high up and then dive down to kill a bird or a small animal. Some falcons can dive at 240 kph!

The bedoving used to hunt on camels. They rode fast as they followed their flying falcons. Today, falconry is a sport, not a necessity, and falconers ride most in air-conditioned 4WDs.

One disadvantage of this sport is that too much¹¹ rare birds might be caught. However, many governments¹² such as Iraq have set up protected areas for birds. People cannot hunt there. As a result, wildlife numbers went up¹³. The environment¹⁴ is more richer¹⁵.

If nothing was done about this, there would no birds soon be left 16. These safe areas for birds are also good habetats 17 for other animals.

The Stork-Ruler

nce, there was a ruler of a famous city who liked to walk around the markets every afternoon. He wore a sguise so that no one could recognize him. The liked to listen to the gossip and look for interesting things to buy.

One day, at the market, an old man offered im a decorated box of sweets.

'How much do you want for it?' asked the ruler.

'One gold coin,' said the old man.

'A bargain!' said the ruler. He paid the old man. Then he opened the box and ate a sweet. 'Delicious!'

But as he spoke, he turned into a stork!

It must have been a magical sweet! The ruler was very shocked. He had never been a stork before. He looked around for the old man, but he had vanished.

'Perhaps,' he thought, 'if I eat another sweet, I will turn back into a man.' He used his beak to take another sweet from the box. It was as delicious as the first – but it didn't change him back. He ate another sweet, and another, until they were all gone. But a stork he remained.

The ruler knew that no one would let a stork into his palace, so he went to live by a lake in the palace gardens. And his brother Nurredin became ruler in his place.

The next day, as he was searching for grubs to eat by the lake, the stork heard voices approaching. He hid in some reeds and watched. There was his brother, Nurredin – the new ruler. And with him – the old man who had sold him the magical sweets!

'Well done, devious magician,' said Nurredin. He handed the old man a bag of silver. 'Without your tricks, I would never have become ruler.' The old man laughed. 'It was easy to turn the old ruler into a stork! I knew my box of sweets would tempt him.'

'The fool has always had a sweet tooth,' said

Nurredin. 'And now it has been his undoing! Can he ever turn back into a man? I certainly hope not!'

'Don't worry about that,' laughed the magician. 'The old ruler can only undo the spell by taking back his gold coin. But I never give coins to storks!' He laughed heartily.

Nurredin didn't laugh. 'Still,' he said, 'I would rather have the coin myself. It makes me nervous.'

'As you wish,' said the magician. He took the gold coin out of his cloak and handed it to Nurredin. Nurredin walked back towards the palace, and the magician disappeared.

* * *

Just as night was beginning to fall, the stork flapped out of the reeds and flew across the gardens towards the palace. It was a hot, damp night, and he flew straight through an open window into Nurredin's room. Nurredin wasn't there. The stork began to search for the coin.

* * *

As Nurredin returned to his room, he heard a small noise - like a coin dropping to the floor.

'A robber!'

Nurredin ran into the room. There were feathers on the floor, and his brother stood before him.

'I am no robber, brother Nurredin. Why, this is my own palace!'

He stood looking down the never-ending tunnel. The path went on as far as the eye could see, surrounded by walls of the darkest green. The trees that lined the way grew tall, reaching up and over. The tall, thin branches were like fingers trapping whoever walked below. Where did this path lead? There was only one way to find out. He bravely took a step forward ...

The Strange Machine

It was the holidays and I was staying at my uncle's house. My uncle is an inventor. One day, I was slowly searching through the attic. Underneath a dusty sheet in the far corner,

I found a very strange machine with many buttons. I had never seen a machine like it before. It was as big as a car. On one side, there was a button that said 'on'.

A Treasure in the desert

The men were heading west across the desert, following the tattered map Professor Indry had found tucked in an old diary. This was the fourth day of the exhausting journey and the men were starting to feel weak and frustrated. The youngest member of the group, Ibrahim, suddenly stumbled and cried out in pain as his foot struck a large stone poking up through the sand. He kicked the stone again in anger and jumped in surprise as the ground in front of him began to move like a mouth opening. He called excitedly to the rest of the group.

As Ranya made her way steadily around the running track for the twentieth time, her legs felt as heavy as stone. It was a boiling hot day and she was still aching from yesterday's training, but she knew she had to keep going to have any chance of winning the big race on Sunday. It had been a long and difficult journey to get this far and Ranya had tried hard to fit in all the extra training with her school work. She was determined to make her parents and teachers proud.

conversations. Find the names of the people in the pictures and write them in your Activity

Book.

Ibrahim: Hello? Ibrahim, here.

Mum: It's your mum. Look

Ibrahim, it's five past one.

What are you doing?

Ibrahim: Oh, hi Mum. I'm in the lift.

I'm just coming to the ground floor now.

Mum: Oh, well hurry up, then! And what about Salwa? What's she doing?

Ibrahim: Sorry. What was that?

Mum: Salwa! What's she doing?

Ibrahim: I don't know.

Mum: Aren't you with her, then?

Ibrahim: No, I'm with Ameena.

Mum: Who did you say?

Ibrahim: Ameena. Don't worry, Mum.

We're coming. See you in a minute. Bye!

Salwa: Hello? Who is it?

Mum: Salwa! It's me. Look. It's five past one! What are you doing? We're waiting for you!

Salwa: I'm waiting in a queue.

Mum: In a queue? Do you know the time? It's five past one – almost ten past one. What are you queuing for?

Salwa: I'm buying an ice-cream.

It's very busy.

Mum: There's no time for that.

Come back right now,

Salwa. Please.

Salwa: I'm really sorry, Mum. See you in a minute.

Jassim: Hello. Jassim here.

Mum: Yes, I know who it is. But what are you doing?

Jassim: Nothing.

Hasan:

Mum: You sound funny. Where are you?

Jassim: I'm in the restaurant. I'm having a burger.

Mum: In the restaurant? But it's five past one! Where's Fahad? Is he with you?

Jassim: Yes, he was thirsty. He's having a cola.

Mum: Look, Jassim. Will you hurry up, please! Bring the burger with you. Tell Fahad to bring his cola.

Jassim: OK, Mum. Sorry. We're coming.

Mum: Quickly!

Simon! Over here! Boy 2:

2 Rachel.

Girl 1: Hi, Sarah. Have you seen

Rachel?

Girl 2: Rachel, who's that?

Girl 1: She's new in the school.

Don't you know her?

Girl 2: I'm not sure. What does she look like?

Girl 1: Well, she's quite short.

Girl 2: Yes? That could be anyone.

Girl 1: I know. Look, she's got straight hair, straight black hair and brown eyes.

Girl 2: Is that Rachel over there?

She's short with straight black hair. Is Rachel's hair long or short?

Girl 1: She's got long hair. Oh, I > know. This morning she was wearing a long green skirt and a white blouse.

Girl 2: Well, you've got a good memory. What about socks and shoes?

Girl 1: Yes, I do remember. She had black shoes and white socks.

Girl 2: Oh, I know who you mean.

And she was carrying a CD player.

Girl 1: Yes, that's Rachel.

Voice:

Kareem walked quickly past the department store and hurried towards the bookshop. As he got closer he saw there was a long queue forming outside the door to the shop and his heart sank. He had been saving up for months and wanted to be the first one to buy the new book by his favourite poet - now he would have to wait in line. As he stood waiting, the hardworking schoolboy pulled the advert for the new book out of his pocket.

Kareem had read all of Al-Nawab's poems at least twice and found them very interesting. The quiet boy spent most of his free time reading or writing his own poems and his parents, friends and teachers all said he was very imaginative. It was Kareem's dream to be a famous poet himself one day. Finally the shop door opened and the owner welcomed the queue of customers in. When Kareem got to the door, the shop owner suddenly rang a bell and everyone started clapping and cheering. Kareem was very surprised and didn't know what was happening. After a while the shop owner saw Kareem's confusion and explained, 'You are the 50th customer through the door today, young man. There is a big prize for customer number 50 ... you will get to meet Al-Nawab. Are you any good at writing poems?' 'Yes! I've got notebooks full of poems,' replied Kareem. He felt a surge of happiness as he understood what was happening. His patience was being rewarded. It was a good thing after all that he wasn't first to buy the latest book.

Boy 1: What would you like to do this afternoon?

Boy 2: I don't know.

Boy 3: How about going to the park?

Boy 4: What, to play football?

Boy 3: Yes. Why not?
Boy 4: No, it's too hot.

Boy 1: I'd rather go to the cinema to watch a film.

Boy 4: I'd rather not. I don't like the films at the cinema at the moment.

Boy 1: OK. What would you like to do?

Boy 4: Let's go to the mall. There's a new game shop and we can have lunch there.

Boy 1: Yes! That's a good idea.

Do the students ask any of your questions?

Student 1: How old are you?

Lucy: 1'm 16.

Student 1: Is your father an actor?

Lucy: No, he isn't. He's a doctor. Student 2: What's the TV programme called?

Lucy: It's called The Badri Family.

Student 1: What kind of TV programme is it?

Lucy: It's a comedy. It's really funny.

Student 2: What character do you play?

Lucy: I play the part of Samara.

She's the daughter of the family.

Student 3: How did you get the part in the TV programme?

Lucy: I saw a poster at school. It said 'Audition next Friday in the school hall'. So I went for the audition. I did alright but I didn't think I'd get the part.

Student 1: Why didn't you think you'd get the part?

Lucy: Because there were about 200 other girls there!

Student 2: How did they tell you about the part?

Lucy: They phoned. My mother answered the phone. She screamed really loudly so I ran to her. She told me the news and I screamed too!

Then we both started laughing – and crying!

Student 1: Did you go to school during the filming?

Lucy: No, I didn't go to school for about six months.

Student 2: Wow! Cool!

Lucy: Yes, but wait a minute! I had a special teacher with me all the time. She taught me in all the breaks and after filming each day.

Student 2: Did you have lots of words to learn?

Lucy: Yes, lots and lots! But of course you only do one part of the programme at a time. You only have to learn a few words at a time.

Unit 2 Lesson 10

What is your hobby?

Do you have a hobby? What is a hobby? Generally, this is something you do in your spare time for enjoyment and relaxation rather than something you do to earn money. Though sometimes a hobby can turn into a job. Hobbies can include collecting things, doing something creative or artistic, playing sports and other games or, of course, simply watching television. By continually participating in a particular hobby, one can acquire substantial skill and knowledge in that area. If you live near the river, you may enjoy race your friends to the other side. With enough practice, you may even get fast enough to train to enter competitions and one day compete in the Asian Games or the Olympics like Mohanad Ahmed Dheyaa Al-Azzawi did in 2012. If swimming sounds like too much hard work, fishing may be more your kind of hobby. Traditionally, fishing is something fathers often enjoyed teaching their sons. Many people find there is nothing more relaxing than sitting next to a beautiful lake or river watching nature and feeling part of it. If you are really lucky, you may even catch something to take home for dinner! Being creative and making things can also be extremely enjoyable. Jewellery making is a hobby which goes back many hundreds of years. You can make beautiful necklaces, bracelets and earrings using many different materials, including silver, glass beads and even shells. They make wonderful gifts for your family and friends, too! Another ancient craft still popular in many homes is blanket weaving. Many communities share a loom and you can create beautiful patterns using wool, felt, silk or mohair. The patterns on the blankets can vary from region to region and popular colours are bright reds, oranges, browns, yellows and blues. You need a lot of patience for this hobby as it takes a long time to make one blanket, but it is something for your family to treasure for generations.

Voice 2:

People are growing taller.

People are taller than they used to be because of better food. Scientists say that we are growing two centimetres every ten years.

Voice 1:

People are living longer. A new baby in Iraq can expect to live for seventy years or more. Thanks to better health services, life expectancy is rising by one year every five years.

Voice 2:

The population is increasing.
The number of people in Iraq is over 35 million and it is going up at a rate of one million per year. This is due to an increase in the birth rate and a decrease in the death rate.

Mushtaq: What's the matter?

Mithaq: Look! There's a spider on my book!

Mushtaq: So? What about it?

Mushtaq: Why not?

Mithaq: I hate spiders!

Mushtaq: Really? I don't mind them.

Mithaq: You must be joking!

Mushtaq: No, I'm not joking. Most spiders are harmless.

Mithaq: I'm not afraid of them. I just don't like them!

Mushtaq: If there were no spiders,

you wouldn't be happy.

Mithaq: Oh yes, I would!

Presenter: Listen to three descriptions and match them to the pictures.

Girl 1: They're small animals. They can only be seen at night.

They sleep in the daytime.

Girl 2: What do they look like?

Girl 1: Well, when they're flying, they look like birds. But really they're quite different. For example, they have big ears. Some of them look like mice.

Girl 2: Mice?

Girl 1: Yes. Mice that can fly! I don't like them very much.

2

Boy 1: They're long and thin animals. They can be found in deserts.

Boy 2: What else do you know about them?

Boy 1: They have long fangs with poison in. You can be killed if you are bitten.

Boy 2: They sound scary! I hope I never get bitten by one!

G 18

Presenter: Read the questions.

Listen to the

advertisement and answer them.

Announcer: Do you need a new car? Do you want to buy the best?

Come to Best Cars in Al-Zaytoon Street. We have the new Panther four point five in stock. It has electric seats. It has electric windows. It has a sunroof and a CD player. It even has a DVD player for the kids in the back seats. And it has lots of space for six people. This beautiful car has everything that you expect in an expensive car. But it is not expensive. It is cheap to buy at 15 million Iraqi dinars. That's just 15 million Iraqi dinars. And it's cheap to run - it does 14 kilometres to the litre. Yes, that's right. 14 kilometres to the litre. So if you want a beautiful 6-seater car with electric windows and seats, a CD player and a DVD player, come to Best Cars now and test drive the Panther four point five.

1 Ali is talking to Fahad.

Ali: What did you do last night,

Fahad?

Fahad: I stayed at home.

Ali: So what did you do at home?

Fahad: I watched football on television. India and Brazil.

Ali: India and Brazil! Who won?

Fahad: Brazil.

Ali: Yes, I'm sure they did. What was the score?

Fahad: 9-0. [laughter] It wasn't a very good match!

2 Ali and Fahad are talking the next day.

Fahad: There was a good match on television last night, Ali.

Ali: Really? Better than the Brazil - India match, I hope.

Fahad: [laughter] Yes. It was really exciting.

Ali: Who played?

Fahad: Juventus and AC Milan.

Ali: Yes, that sounds much better. What was the result?

Fahad: Two – two.

Ali: So neither of them won,

then?

Fahad: No, I don't like a draw, but it was still a good match.

3 Ben is talking to James.

James: Did you watch the match

last night, Ben?

Ben: Yes, I did. I always watch

Manchester United.

James: Was it good?

Ben: Yes, very good.

James: Who did Manchester play?

Ben: They played Arsenal.

James: Oh, really? Who won?

Ben: United, of course.

James: By how much? What was the score?

Ben: It was 3-1. They got two goals right at the end.

Reporter: Good morning. Today, we are talking to the well-known dentist, Dr Nawal Ramzi. Dr Ramzi, first of all, where were you born?

Dr Ramzi: I was born in Mosul.

Reporter: What were you doing before you became a famous dentist?

Dr Ramzi: Well, I was already a dentist, and I was reading a lot at home and keeping in touch with a large number of dentists in different countries around the world.

Reporter: I see. So what changed your life?

Dr Ramzi: One day I was treating a

It was badly decayed and needed to be pulled out.

Everything was fine but all of a sudden the gum started bleeding. I tried and tried until I finally succeeded in stopping the bleeding. I resumed my work again. It was a lesson for me to work harder and find newer, smarter methods to treat bad teeth.

Reporter: What happened then?

Dr Ramzi: I participated in different workshops on using lasers in dentistry. I opened a large new dental clinic using modern equipment to make my work more successful.

Reporter: Are you happy with your work now?

Dr Ramzi: Oh, yes, very happy because I am helping people in my city to have healthy teeth. I also offer free treatment to poor families and to the families of Iraqi soldiers.

Noor:

A powerful lesson for everyone

Every year, Al Sabah newspaper makes a special offer to two young students from local schools. In the summer holidays these students can work as reporters on the paper. They can see what reporters really do in their jobs and they can learn to write reports. Last summer, Salam Ahmed was the lucky boy. He was 15 years old and he wanted to be a reporter. On his first day at the paper he took a new reporter's notebook. One of the reporters was showing Salam his desk when the editor came in and said, 'A big new restaurant is opening in Baghdad next Tuesday. I need someone to write a good report on the event.'

'I can do it,' Salam said.

On Tuesday Salam took his notebook and camera and went into the new restaurant. Salam watched everything, but one special thing attracted his attention. A young boy was taking his old father, who was in a wheelchair, to the restaurant for a treat. The boy bought his father some food. The father was very old and weak and dropped food on his shirt and trousers while he ate. Many of the other customers watched the old man in disgust but his son looked at him with love and respect. After the old man had finished eating, his son, who was not at all embarrassed, quietly took him to the washroom and patiently wiped the food from his clothes, combed his hair and straightened his spectacles. When they came out, the entire restaurant was watching them in dead silence, not able to grasp how someone could embarrass themselves publicly like that.

The son, very proud and pleased, started walking out through the crowd with his father. As they left, a wise old man called out to the son and asked him, 'Don't you think you have left something behind?'

The son replied, 'No sir, I haven't.'
The old man said, 'Yes, you have! You left a lesson for every son and hope for every father.'

The restaurant went silent. Salam was watching everything and followed the boy and his father. After asking them questions and taking notes, he thanked the boy and kissed the old man on his head. Salam made his very first report about this touching story and it was praised by everyone.

Headteacher: Well, do you have any

Layla: Career plans? No, I haven't got any plans.

Headteacher: None at all?

Layla: No ... Actually, I do have a plan. I'm going to leave school as soon as I'm 16.

Headteacher: I see. And what are you going to do when you leave school?

Layla: Oh, I don't know. Get a job, I suppose.

Headteacher: What kind of job do you

Layla: I've no idea! I'll do anything, but I'm never going to do another exam.

Headteacher: What are your interests,

Layla? Clothes? Music? Computers? Travel?

Layla: No! Definitely not!

Headteacher: What are you good at?

Layla: I'm quite good at drawing

I suppose.

Headteacher: Perhaps you could apply to Art school and study drawing and painting further. You might even find a job using the skills you learn there.

Layla: Oh, well, yes. That's a great idea. Do you think I could? ...

Headteacher: Hello, Dania.

Dania: Good morning, Headteacher.

Headteacher: Well now, Dania, do you have any career plans?

Dania: Oh, yes, Headteacher. I'm going to be a vet.

Headteacher: A vet? That's a tough course, and it takes a long time at university.

Dania: Yes, I know. I've found out all about it and I'm going to do it.

Headteacher: Excellent! Now, do you know which school subjects

you will have to study?

Dania: Yes, I do. And I know that I'm going to have to work hard and get good exam results.

Headtéacher: That's right. And will you be able to do that, Dania?

Dania:

I hope so. I've worked really hard this term.

Headteacher: That's good, because you'll have to carry on working hard for the next three years and then at university.

Dania:

I know. But it'll be worth it because vets earn a lot of money.

Headteacher: That's true. But money isn't everything. It's important to like your job.

Dania:

That's not a problem for me. I love being with animals.

Can you tell me how to get to the bookshop?

Mr Saad: Of course, Hassan. Go out of the school and go straight on until you reach the traffic lights. Turn left onto

Al-Jumhuriya Road. Go along

Al-Jumhuriya Road for around 300 metres and then take the second right. Go past the hotel and the supermarket and then take the first left onto Al-Rasheed Street. Take the first right and the bookshop is on the left just after the café.

Boy: OK. So that's left onto fire officers.

Faisal: Just let me get that down,

please. Right. May I ask you about your own training?

Bob: Well, after school, I went to university. That was in London – the University of London. I studied English there for three years. Then I did a teacher-training course for one year.

Faisal: Did you start working after that?

Bob: Yes. I got my first job at a school in Italy, teaching

English.

Faisal: Did you teach children or adults?

Bob: Children. After that I went to Turkey. I taught adults there – business people, doctors, and so on. I was there for two years. And then I came here.

Faisal: What are the advantages of your present job? I mean, what do you like about it?

Bob: Well, I enjoy working with young people. And I love being in Iraq. It's a great place!

Faisal: Are you just saying that because this is my country?

Bob: No, no. Not at all! There are so many opportunities for things like visiting historical sites and interesting places - oh, lots of things.

And I find that people everywhere are very friendly.

Faisal: You definitely like Iraq! Are there any disadvantages?

Bob: Well, it is sometimes too hot to do anything!

Faisal: I think you should stay here forever! But what are your plans for the future?

Bob: Well, um ... I'm not sure. I'd like to stay here in Iraq, but I think I'm going to go back to university and study for a higher degree.

Faisal: Do you have to do that?

Bob: No, but I want to. It will improve my career. Then I'll go to another country to work.

Faisal: Thank you very much for helping me with my project.

Bob: Not at all. Good luck with it.

The Asian Games

The Asian Games are held every four years. Young people from all over Asia compete in more than 30 kinds of sport. It is an exciting festival. Strength and skill are tested and friendships are built between people from different countries. The Games are also an opportunity for cultural exchange because the programme includes musical performances and exhibitions of architecture and the arts.

History of the Games

The Asian Games were started after the end of the Second World War. The idea was to build international friendship through sport. This idea came from India, so the first Games were held in the Indian capital, New Dehli, in 1951. In that year, 489 athletes from 11 countries took part in the Games. Since then, the number has grown, and now more than 40 countries compete in the Games.

The OCA

The Asian Games are organized by the OCA. These letters stand for the Olympic Council of Asia. Forty-five countries and regions are members of the OCA, and most of them have won medals at the Games.

Where they've been held

Most recently, the Asian Games have been held in Doha, Qatar (2006), Guangzhou, China (2010), and Incheon, South Korea (2014).

Iraq's record in the Games

An Iraqi team has attended the Asian Games seven times since 1974. Up to 2014, Iraq has won six gold medals, 15 silver medals and 23 bronze medals, which is unusually good for a country in a difficult situation. An extraordinary Iraqi competitor was Ali Adnan Amir, who at just 10 years old competed in a men's 200m individual medley heat at the Asian Games in Doha, Qatar on 6 December, 2006.
